

Hurricane Ian Recovery

Oct. 27, 2022

Temporary Housing Options After Hurricane Ian

The State of Florida and FEMA are providing several kinds of assistance to Floridians in 26 counties whose homes were damaged or destroyed by Hurricane Ian. FEMA grants can help with repair or replacement of hurricane-damaged primary homes and rental assistance. Transitional Sheltering Assistance (TSA) provides free hotel stays for displaced Hurricane Ian survivors. FEMA has authorized Direct Temporary Housing Assistance for Charlotte, Collier, DeSoto and Lee counties and will provide manufactured housing units and travel trailers, as well as direct leasing of homes for eligible applicants. FEMA is committed to helping Hurricane Ian survivors get a safe roof over their heads to jumpstart their recovery as quickly as possible.

By the Numbers

- $1.51 billion in federal grants, disaster loans and flood insurance payments.
 - $654 million in FEMA Individual Assistance approved for 307,006 households
 - $328 million in U.S. Small Business Administration disaster loans approved
 - 42,000 National Flood Insurance Program claims, $208 million paid, including $132 million in advance payments
 - $322 million in FEMA Public Assistance approved for emergency response costs
- 2,182 households (5,528 members) checked into hotel rooms under FEMA's Transitional Sheltering Assistance for households
- 13,700 Blue Roofs installed by U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

Transitional Sheltering Assistance

The state of Florida and FEMA have activated the Transitional Sheltering Assistance (TSA) program for Hurricane Ian survivors in Charlotte, Collier, DeSoto, Flagler, Hardee, Highlands, Hillsborough, Lake, Lee, Manatee, Orange, Osceola, Pinellas, Polk, Putnam, Sarasota, Seminole, St. Johns and Volusia counties. Survivors from these counties who have applied for disaster assistance may be eligible to shelter in a hotel or motel paid for by FEMA. Documenting Ownership and Occupancy

FEMA has taken steps to help owners and renters of disaster-damaged property validate ownership and/or occupancy as part of the application for financial assistance. FEMA now accepts a broader range of documentation. Visit: Verifying Home Ownership or Occupancy | FEMA.gov for more information.

It's Important to Submit the SBA Disaster Loan Application

FEMA may refer applicants to the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) with information on how to apply for a disaster loan. If your application is approved, you are not obligated to accept the SBA loan, but it's important to submit the loan application as soon as possible to prevent you from being disqualified from other possible financial assistance from FEMA. Disaster Assistance Accessible to All

Every Hurricane Ian survivor deserves access to programs that can help them begin recovery. FEMA has taken steps to ensure this access. Disaster Assistance Accessible to All | FEMA.gov | FEMA Speaks Your Language Animation | FEMA in Your Language Webpage

Critical Needs Assistance

FEMA may provide financial assistance to applicants in the 26 counties designated for Individual Assistance who have immediate or critical needs because they are displaced from their primary dwelling. Critical Needs Assistance | FEMA.gov

Clean and Sanitize Assistance

Eligible applicants may qualify for a one-time $300 payment to help with cleanup of their damaged dwelling. For more information, visit fema.gov/fact-sheet/clean-and-sanitize-assistance.

Operation Blue Roof

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, in coordination with FEMA, may be able to assist eligible homeowners with temporary roof repairs. Operation Blue Roof is a free service to homeowners impacted by Hurricane Ian in Charlotte, Collier, DeSoto, Lee, and Sarasota counties. Homeowners can sign up online at bluroof.us or call 1-888-ROOF-BLU (1-888-766-3258) for more information. Deadline is Nov. 1, 2022.

Flood Insurance

If your National Flood Insurance Program policy has expired, you may be able to reinstate it without a lapse in coverage. FEMA has extended the renewal grace period for Florida flood insurance policyholders affected by Hurricane Ian. The extension applies to policyholders whose expiration dates were Aug. 25, 2022, through Oct. 23, 2022. If the renewal date was Oct. 23, 2022, the policy may be renewed by Jan. 21, 2023. The NFIP also has extended the proof of loss requirement for policyholders who experienced flood damage from Hurricane Ian from the standard 60 days to 365 days from the date of loss. For questions about NFIP, call 800-759-8656 or visit Floodsmart.gov.
