subject (Charles) was about 14 years old, he went to learn the boat-building trade with one Waterman, in Peninsula, where many canal-boats were built. When he was 19 years of age, he took charge of the boat-building business for Waterman, and remained until 21 years of age, when he concluded to go to California during the rush to the gold mines of that State, where he worked at mining for about two years, and met with reasonable success during his stay. Returning to Ohio, he resumed his trade at Peninsula, and in the winter would build a boat and run it during the summer, then dispose of all in the fall of the year; this was followed for about five years. In 1859, he, in company with Henry Johnson, purchased a yard and dry-dock and conducted the boat-building business until 1873, when he sold out. To Mr. Bouton belongs the credit of building the first round-stern propeller canal-boat ever in this State, and, up to this date, he built the last boat that has been built in Peninsula in 1872. When he sold out in 1873, he came to Hudson, and purchased the Mansion House property in 1874, and has been in the hotel and livery business since. He has been twice married, first in April, 1854, to Helen A. Johnson, daughter of Henry Johnson, of Boston Township; she died May 29, 1872, leaving three children: Lillie, now wife of R. K. Pelton, of Cleveland; Lawson and Clarence. His second marriage was celebrated with Ada D. Crosley, of Cleveland, in April, 1874.

WILLIAM CHAMBERLAIN, deceased. With his wife and several children (viz., Joseph, William, Amos, Reuben, Samuel, Philemon, Rachel, Hiram, Lucy, Lydia and Mary) emigrated from Connecticut to Ohio, and settled in Hudson Township, in 1809. One daughter, Ann, married a Mr. Case, and located at Granville, Ohio. They were among the early pioneers of the county, and applied themselves to clearing the land and making general improvements; bearing the many privations with a determined resolution to overcome every obstacle. Being industrious, they laid the foundation of material prosperity. All except Hiram have long since mingled their dust with that of mother earth. The representatives of the family still in this vicinity are the lineal descendants of Amos, the third son of William. He (Amos), was a youth of about 16 years of age when his parents came here; he took jobs of chopping by the acre, and chopped much of the timber in this vicinity, and thereby procured some means to buy a piece of land for himself. He married Jerusha Crane, who came to Ohio from Connecticut, at an early date, with her parents. They had ten children, nine of whom grew up to maturity, viz., Horace A., Harris B., Schuyler M., Laura M., Jerusha A., Catharine R., Orville W., Cordelia M. and Henry H. Both Amos and his wife died here, at an advanced age.

HARRIS B. CHAMBERLAIN; P. O. Hudson; was born May 20, 1819, on the old homestead, in this township. Having been reared to farm life, he began in the same pursuits, and has followed the same all his lifetime. His course of education was that received at the common schools. In October, 1850, he married Miss Maria Henry, daughter of James Henry, of Aurora, Ohio. They located on a farm in the vicinity of his early home, which was formerly the home of John Brown, of Harper's Ferry fame, where they have resided ever since. Their union was blessed with three children, viz., Eliza, now Mrs. D. C. Bentley; Ella, now widow of Henry Ellsworth, and Clara. Mrs. Chamberlain was born May 4, 1820, in Aurora; is the youngest of nine children born to James and Sarah (Cochrane) Henry. He was a native of Connecticut, but moved to Harpersfield, N. Y.; thence with his wife and three children to Aurora, Ohio, in 1804. They were the third family to settle in that place; there Mr. Henry officiated as Justice of the Peace for many years. At a very early date in the history of Ohio, his wife's father, John Cochrane, located about 1,400 acres, and when on his way out with his family, he took sick, and died at Buffalo, N. Y., and was said to be the first white man to die at that place. Of James Henry's family, those surviving are the widow of F. Booth, of Twinsburg; Harvey H., of Iowa; Gilbert H., of Emporia, Kan.; Mrs. Blanchard, of Lyons, Mich., and Mrs. Chamberlin.

SCHUYLER M. CHAMBERLIN, farmer; P. O. Hudson; was the third son born to Amos Chamberlin, which occurred Nov. 3, 1821. He received a fair education in the common schools and turned his attention to farming, and by care and industry has been quite successful. When about 22 years of age, he married Miss Jane E. Bliss. They began on a farm almost all in woods, which his father gave him, and which he improved, making a comfortable and pleasant home. They have three children, viz., R. R., in Hudson; Geo. S., in Streetsboro Corners, and Julia B., now Mrs. Robert White. Mrs. Chamberlin's parents were Josiah and Sarah (Cooley) Bliss, natives of Springfield, Mass. Mr. Bliss died in Massachusetts, leaving a widow and four children. One of them—Sarah A.—remained in Massachusetts; the three other children—William B., George J., and Jane E., now Mrs. Chamberlin—with their mother, emigrated to Ohio in 1830. Mrs. Bliss died in Aurora, Portage Co. Her son, Geo. J., is a minister of the Gospel in the Methodist Church in Cleveland; William B. enlisted during the war of the late rebellion, and was seriously wounded at the second battle of Bull Run, and after lying eight days on the field in a disabled condition, he was found alive; he died soon afterward of exhaustion.

CARROLL CUTLER, President of the Western Reserve College, Hudson; was born Jan. 31, 1829, in Windham, N. H. He was the third child born to Rev. Calvin and Rhoda (Little) Cutler. The Rev. Calvin Cutler was a native of Vermont, and a graduate of Dartmouth College. In 1822, he entered the ministry under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church in New Hampshire. He was energetic in establishing schools, and liberal in their support whenever dependent on private subscription, thereby providing the best possible school facilities for his large family. President Cutler began to teach school when about 17 years of age; and at 18 years he entered the Phillips Academy, at Andover, Mass. In 1850, he entered Yale College, and graduated in 1854. At the close of his collegiate course he taught in Bloomfield, N. J., one year; then entered the Union Theological Seminary at New York. He was appointed tutor in Yale College in 1856, where he remained two years. Aug. 10, 1858, he married Miss Francis E. Gallagher; they went to Europe, where Mr. Cutler spent a year in study, and traveling, returning to New Jersey in 1859, and in April of the following year he was appointed Professor of Mental Philosophy and Rhetoric, in the Western Reserve College. In 1871, he was elected President of the College. They have one child, Susan Rhoda. Mrs. Cutler was born at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y. in 1828. She was the daughter of Capt. J. H. Gallagher, of the U. S. A. He resigned his commission in the army, and entered the ministry in 1838. His religious views accorded with Presbyterianism and in that faith he was ordained, and preached thirteen years; when on account of failing health he was obliged to withdraw from pastoral duties.

SIDNEY COLLAR, farmer; P. O. Hudson, was born in Warren Co., Vt., Aug. 2, 1808. His father (David Collar) was a carpenter and millwright by trade, and when our subject was about 5 years old, the family moved from Vermont to New York. In 1820, they moved to Ohio with a family of fourteen children, and in 1826 they located in Hudson; but his father removed to Lorain County, where he died many years ago. Sidney was the second child and eldest son of fifteen children (one died before they came to Ohio) in all eight boys and seven girls; he began on his own account when about 19 years old. He married Carolina Stone Dec. 23, 1830; she was the daughter of Nathaniel Stone who came here in 1810. Mrs. Collar was a babe only 6 weeks old when her parents left Connecticut. Soon after his marriage, Mr. Collar bought 33½ acres where he made a comfortable home, which he finally sold and removed to the farm where he now lives in 1835; and on which he has lived ever since. It was all heavy timber at that time through which the deer fearlessly ranged. Mr. and Mrs. Collar had three children—Carolina L., who was married to Mr. Draper, and is deceased; Emeline E. was wife of Alph. Stone, and died in Michigan; and Sarah, who is Mrs. S. Griest, who resides with Mr. Collar and has charge of the farm. Mr. Griest was a volunteer in the late rebellion, serving in Co. E, 88th Ind. V. I.; at the close of the war he returned to Ft. Wayne, Ind., from which place his regiment came. But soon after the close of the war he returned to his native place (Summit Co., Ohio) where he was married and resided ever since.

M. CHAPMAN, farmer, P. O. Hudson, was born in this township, west edge of Lot 8, Dec. 18, 1821, son of John and Eliza (Bassett) Chapman. Mathew was the eldest of a family of seven children, who were, Harriet, Mary, Ellen, John, Henry and Rufus. Our subject was raised to farming pursuits. In April 1849, he was married to Sarah B. Waite, born Sept. 25, 1828, in Boston Township, daughter of Benjamin and Sarah Chapman, whose maiden name

CHAMBERLAIN, HARRIS B. 1819- 1888

Harris B Chamberlain, whose death occurred at his residence, Friday, May 4th 1888, from blood poisoning, was the second son of the late Amos and Jerusha Chamberlain, early pioneers of Hudson. He was born May 20th 1819, at the old farm home in Hudson, and lived his whole life within sight of his birthplace. Mr. Chamberlain has been a kind husband and father, a substantial, respected, and honored citizen, always gentlemanly and kind to all. He was married in the later 40's to Miss Maria Henry, who survives him.

Three daughters were born to them, all of whom are living, Mrs. D.G. Bently, Mrs. Henry A. Ellsworth, and Mrs. Charles Terrill.

Three brothers, Schuyler M., and Henry H. of Hudson, and Orvill, of Garrettsville, and three sisters, Mrs. E.C. Baldwin of Springfield, Mrs. S.P. Thompson, and Miss Kate Chamberlain of Hudson, survive him.

The death of such a man is not only a bad bereavement to his family, but also a great loss to the whole community. The funeral was held from the family residence at 1:00 P.M. Sunday, Rev. Haynes of Twinsburg officiating. He was interred in Markillie Cemetary.
