

Mental Health Association Privacy Policy

This privacy policy discloses the privacy practices for www.mhasefl.org. This privacy policy applies solely to information collected by this web site. It will notify you of the following:

1. What personally identifiable information is collected from you through the web site, how it is used and with whom it may be shared
2. What choices are available to you regarding the use of your data
3. The security procedures in place to protect the misuse of your information
4. How you can correct any inaccuracies in the information

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing

MHA is the sole owner of the information collected on this site. MHA has access to/collect information that you voluntarily give us via email or other direct contact from you. MHA does not sell or rent this information to anyone.

MHA uses your information to respond to you, regarding the reason you contacted us. MHA does not share your information with any third party outside of the Association, other than as necessary to fulfill your request, e.g. to ship an order.

Unless you ask us not to, MHA may contact you via email in the future to tell you about programs or services, or changes to this privacy policy.

Your Access to and Control Over Information

You may opt out of any future contacts from MHA at any time. You can do the following at any time by contacting us via the email address or phone number given on our website:

- See what data we have about you, if any
- Change/correct any data we have about you
- Have us delete any data we have about you
- Express any concern you have about our use of your data

Security

MHA takes precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and offline.

Wherever MHA collects sensitive information (such as credit card data), that information is encrypted and transmitted in a secure way. You can verify this by looking for a closed lock icon at the bottom of your web browser, or looking for "https" at the beginning of the address of the web page.

While MHA uses encryption to protect sensitive information transmitted online, your information is also protected offline. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, billing or customer service) are granted access to personally identifiable information. The computers/servers in which we store personally identifiable information are kept in a secure environment.

Updates

MHA's Privacy Policy may change from time to time and all updates are posted on this page.

If you feel that we are not abiding by this privacy policy, you should contact us immediately.
