

Rescuers vs.
Looters

When disaster strikes,
most rise to the heights
of rescuers;
others, however,
descend to the depths
of looters.

Rescuers pray and help
looters prey and hinder.
Rescuers give and share;
looters grab and hoard.
Rescuers care and serve;
looters are self-serving.

Rescuers are generous;
looters are greedy.
Rescuers are noble;
looters are nefarious.
Rescuers are laudable;
looters are reprehensible.

On the ecological level
the inhabitants of Garden Earth
are challenged:
are we on the team
of heroic rescuers,
or have we joined the gang
of lamentable looters?

© Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski

June 25, 2006

Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com

www.fatherwaltersparish.org