

Drew Ammons

I'm Drew Ammons, and I currently work in an analytical role on a Wealth Management group at Merrill Lynch in Raleigh. Prior to joining Merrill in the summer of 2014, I had experience in the Accounting division at Quintiles Transnational and as a Sales Representative at Vector Marketing.

In May 2014, I graduated from Wake Forest University with a Bachelor of Science in Mathematical Economics. During my time at WFU, I played on the club rugby team for 2 years. Furthermore, I was actively involved in my fraternity, Kappa Sigma, for 3 years. Most of my involvement in charities was through my fraternity (Project Pumpkin, Be Bald Beat Cancer, 'Hit the Bricks' for Brian Piccolo). I was a member of the Dow Jones Club.

In my free time, I enjoy playing soccer and golf as much as possible, while trying to get out for some duck hunting when in season. When I have time available from work or school, I am an avid traveler and am probably saving up for my next trip right now. The majority of my family lives in the Triangle area, including my parents, Andy and Jan, my sister, Jessie, and my twin brother, Max.
