Notes from the Scribe: Manyhides

To all:

Had another club workday on 19 April to complete range and trail work. Owing to the fact that Pat, Bill, and Randy and Linda had shown up on a previous workday with ATV's to not only haul up a significant quantity of new belting but actually deliver it to the work area which resulted in getting far more accomplished that day than would have been possible otherwise.

This day, only a small portion remains and the range looks the best it ever has. We have also completed the work in a manner that provides the second barrier to stop most of the balls unless the targets are posted so high they pass over due to the elevation change.

More Buckhorn Skinner Business

A little more work is necessary to provide ground cover for the in between area for the collection process. Also I would make mention of the quality of the work, that visually it looks great with everything nice and straight.

Some of the more troublesome areas on the trail have been improved which will be appreciated more on days of less than perfect conditions.

Our more senior members have been called upon or shall I say our retired members a lot lately for some projects that just had to happen during the week. With Squirrel Shoot a week away we feel prepared for the day if only for some good weather next week. We descended to the meeting area for rest and refreshment and it was decided the business meeting as the next day is Easter this year on the 20th. A question was posed some weeks previous if everyone wanted to have an event or skip it because of not enough in attendance to merit the effort. The following are minutes of the meeting: Treasurer, Scott gave a much modified report of finance due to SS 2014 expenses paid. As usual a complete report of all is appreciated. In old business Pete reports he will pick up food and man the food stand with assistance from Splinter.

In new business we move to a general overview of preparedness from the Captain to check off each department. Walkie Talkies and a legible signature on targets to go with number is brought up by the Mule.

Discussion about allowing a picker designee for the prize table in addition to picking up shoot medallions---- changes agreed but not implemented until next year. Hunters pick from the table but not until other disciplines have been through.

Potluck set for 6:30 PM, five people indicated they would like to have an event for the next day so Mr. Mule agreed to put it on for them. Motion to adjourn made and seconded.

Captain say's ..... dismissed.

On to shoot results following, see ya---Manyhides
