ABOUT ANA PEKAROVIC

As a first-generation American, Ana Pekarovic started her career as a senior designer at Ann Getty and Associates. Ana spent the next ten years learning the industry and specializing in sourcing specialty items from all over the world. In 2005, she launched her own design company, A Design Concept. Throughout her career, Ana has worked with a wide variety of design styles. She has traveled extensively to find items of particular interests, from collectibles to originals, for upscale home and estates. She loves finding solutions to her client's problems and will stop at no length. She has successfully merged her passion of creating an environment that blends the client's vision into a particular design style and the affordability of luxury items sourced from all over the world. All of this has led her to her latest venture and launch of The Ace Collection.

Ana Pekarovic is a partner to The Design Group LA and owner at A Design Concept and currently based in Los Angeles.
