Guest Speaker Steve Levy

"Solutions to America's Problems"

Steve Levy, former New York state assemblyman, Suffolk County executive, and candidate for governor, is now a distinguished political pundit. Levy's commentary has been published in such media outlets as Washington Times, Washington Examiner, New York Post, Albany Times, Long Island Business News, and City & State Magazine. He hosted "The Steve Levy Radio Show" on Long Island News Radio, and is a frequent guest on high profile television and radio outlets. Few on the political scene possess Levy's diverse background. He's been both a legislator and executive, and served on both the state and local levels — as both a Democrat and Republican. Levy published Bias in the Media, an analysis of his own experience, after switching parties, with the media's leftward slant. Levy is currently Executive Director of the Center for Cost Effective Government, a fiscally conservative think tank. He is also President of Common Sense Strategies, a political consulting firm. President's Message

Dear PHRWF Members and Friends
This has been a long, cold Season. The current man in the oval office stated 'times ahead would be a dark.' Yes, it is dark due to the direction our county is heading and that he fills the spot where Our President once served the American people from his rightful place in the Oval Office.

It was such a shock about how the election and post election played out, and the inauguration day rush to cancel Executive Orders that made America Great. PHRWF is keenly aware of the feelings and concerns of our members as they are our own. We now seek how to find our way back. Please do not miss our February 18 zoom meeting when Steve Levy will speak about Solutions to America's Problems. He is a Newsmax pundit and you won't want to miss his informative talk.

Many of us reach out to one another for comfort and commiseration and some of you have written me with your disappointment and confusion over finding a path forward.

Please have confidence there is hope and direction for the future. Republicans, let's prepare for the spring and a new life ahead. We must come together, hear each other and listen to ideas. As Our President once said, "This is only the beginning." Your PHRWF board is now planning stimulating general meetings via zoom as the opportunity to share and prepare for the road ahead. We are asking you, the members of our club, to please come forward if you have the ability and interest in volunteering your time and skills helping with our club. If you lack the confidence right now, help on a committee that interests you.

During the campaigns, our members volunteered their time and energy. If you are displeased with the stances elected are taking, contact their offices so they know where you stand. A few of you shared your disappointment with Congresswoman Kim. Tell her office also. As time goes on, we will be asking you again to help on issues such as the Newsom Recall, as well as Election Integrity concerns. We want to develop a strong, conservative candidates' bench for our district to make a better path to our future. To get there, our immediate need is to grow our membership while we organize our remote general meetings. Please don't miss our monthly general meetings on Thursdays at 7pm. Please contact me through our website "Contact Us" page if you wish to help, have questions, or need information. Strong members make strong clubs. We are now serving several communities in our area and ask that you who enjoy reading our newsletters, take time to join us and help with our cause. Stay in good health, contact your friends and keep your ears open.

Zoom Meeting

ETIQUETTE

It takes a great deal of planning and coordination for meetings to run smoothly and to begin on time. While we may not need a lesson from Emily Post, there are a few things we can all do so everyone will enjoy our meetings.

► Attendees should log on a few minutes early in order for the meeting to start promptly at 7pm. Test your system to make sure everything works ahead of time.

► Attendees should Mute their microphones to remove distracting background voices and noise in your home, and to avoid many speaking at the same time. Some of us do not hear as well as we once did and distractions are annoying. If the speaker's lips are moving, yours should not be. Use the "chat" function to submit questions to avoid talking over each other and help stay on track. Most speakers prefer questions after their talks.

► RSVP: If you receive newsletters regularly, you do not need to email us asking for log on information. We will send you reminders. If you enjoy our newsletters and meetings, please support us by becoming a member. Our work is for you all. Do not share log on information on social media.
