FOUNTAIN INN, SC: The City of Fountain Inn is excited to announce that Eduardo Noriega has accepted the position of Natural Gas Manager. Eduardo will begin his duties on May, 13 2019.

Eduardo has over twenty-eight years of experience in the public utility business including over twenty-two years of managing teams to deliver superior operational efficiency, meeting federal and state compliance, and ensuring customer satisfaction. Eduardo has produced results and provided leadership, management and guidance to salaried, hourly, union, and non-union employees. He has a successful track record of providing safe and reliable delivery of natural gas to residential, commercial and industrial customers. Eduardo has managed multi-million dollar budgets and successfully implemented Senior Management goals and objectives throughout his professional career while coordinating and teaming up with contractors to ensure projects are completed on time, within budget and safe for all with an emphasis on Company policies being followed.

Eduardo holds a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Ohio State University, Columbus Ohio. He is a board member of the American Public Gas Association and the Carolinas Public Gas Association. He is a past board member of the Athens Chamber of Commerce, United Way of North East George and Saint Mary's Hospital.

Originally from Argentina, Eduardo has been in the US for over 35 years, and recently became a US citizen. Eduardo, his wife Didi Caldwell, and two younger children live in Greenville, while their two older children reside in Athens, Georgia. Eduardo and his wife enjoy traveling around the world, running, and eating at off-the-beaten-path locations. In addition, Eduardo has recently started taking golf lessons.
