

Nationwide Aircraft Assurance Services Privacy Policy - NAAS values your business and respects your privacy. We use the information collected about you only to process orders, provide service and to make NAAS services more useful and valuable. You can be assured that we will take all reasonable steps to abide by the policies included here with respect to confidentiality. As a service provider, we know we must earn your trust by doing what we say we're going to do. The information we collect from you on the site is used only by NAAS and will not be shared with outside organizations. We collect and maintain usual contact information such as name and e-mail address. We do not ask for particular demographic information.

Protected customer information. NAAS client information is stored on a secure server. All sensitive information sent to the site, including contact and payment information, is encrypted in a Secure Socket Layer (SSL) which scrambles content in an unreadable format before sending it to our server.

Messages from us to you. We will send you e-mail messages only to inform you of matters relating to you as our client. We will not send you information about additional products and services from any other organization.

What we won't do. It's important to know what NAAS will NOT do with information you provide to the site. Unless required by law or an emergency, we will NOT read e-mail, chat or instant messages that are private and not directed to NAAS. We store mail messages on our computer systems for a brief period of time and could be compelled to disclose the messages along with personally identifiable information to comply with a valid court order or if we believe that a state of emergency exists where it is necessary to disclose the information to protect property or an individual's safety or security. We will not release your information under any other circumstances to any other party without your consent.

Use of cookies. "Cookies" are files stored on your computer's hard drive that simplify and improve your navigation experience. They often help cut down the time it takes for pages to load. NAAS uses cookies to deliver personalized content based on earlier preferences you've expressed. We do NOT store your name or other personally identifiable information on cookies.

We're here to help. At NAAS, we want to provide a positive internet experience for you and help you conduct your business faster and more efficiently. This Privacy Policy is our commitment that we will respect your privacy, and that we value the trust you've placed in us. If you have additional questions about this policy, please contact our Customer Service Team at support@aircraft-value.com or call us toll free 800-695-5110.
