

by the Creator makes all creation one family. By it, no human is ever a non-subject to God, nor can he then be a stranger to any of God's other creature-children.

The Gospel Message – “To Love One's Neighbor as Oneself” – is Jesus' fundamental Rule of Order. It is at the very core of God's Plan for Man, the rationale substantiating the universality of the “Good News Gospel.”

Leaving anyone out of God's inclusive neighborhood of humans would constitute rank disobedience to His Divine Law of Mutual Love. It would be nothing less than contradicting Jesus' very Word and Life, veritable insubordination to His direct Command.

No one before or after Jesus ever specifically taught such an all-embracing Truth regarding human love – not in this way, nor to this extent. Never in all of history has the teaching of universal love ever been so exemplified by any leader. No other mentor has ever implemented universal human love as did Jesus. He demonstrated His care and concern, not just conceptually and verbally, but with His life's blood.

Jesus' love did not only include friends, associates, and co-nationals, but uniquely embraced strangers, aliens, opponents, and even those open enemies who conspired against Him. All were equally within the grasp of His love.

With such a witness and expressed declaration, the Christ both imaged and revealed the very nature of
