

Unpredictable

Today's title is the Word from the Lord. You must be aware of how the "unpredictable" influences your actions and decisions. Before going any farther, give God permission to speak to your heart, to open your eyes and to open your ears concerning how you allow the unpredictable impact your life in negative ways.

Think about the "unpredictable" and how it influences your life. Listen carefully for His voice. These days are critical. The unpredictable causes you to act before you think. Hear this! God says you will advance in a way that you have not advanced before if you trust Him with the unpredictable.

Unpredictable definition:

unforeseeable - uncertain- unsure- doubtful- dubious- iffy- dicey- in the balance- up in the air- erratic - moody- volatile- unstable.

It is a time for you to press in like you've never pressed in before. You will overcome the "unpredictable" that seems to keep popping up blocking your path. Life is changing at a fast rate. The change is necessary and part of God's plans.

Yes, it makes you uncomfortable, but why? Because it is unpredictable. Look at the definition again! Unpredictable brings many unforeseeable things to the table when it arrives. The unpredictable shakes you. The unpredictable scares you. The unpredictable challenges your faith. The unpredictable causes you to take your eyes off Him.

However, God says, "In the midst of this unpredictability you must make the choice to stand strong and resist the emotions it brings with it." Throw off the uncertainty and press through. Throw off the doubt that unpredictability brings and embrace the truth that God is not unpredictable. He is dependable. He is capable. He is completely predictable because He will always do what He says!

You are on the brink of breakthrough. Keep trusting. Keep the faith! The unpredictable has no authority over you, only God's Word can dictate your life. The unpredictable cannot take what God has given to you. Its in the place of unpredictable where you walk over the troubled waters and see the shining light of His word as it takes form within your heart and within your spirit.
