

Jenifer Deweese

I enjoy spending time with my three year old son, finding outdoor adventures, museums, zoos and other educational experiences. I also enjoy archery and competing in 3-D archery shoots.

I have worked with the agency almost 11 years all of which have been for the Head Start Program.

I honestly started working for Head Start as a stepping stone into the public school district. As I gained experience teaching in Head Start, I soon realized this is where my heart is. I have a passion for the children and families that we serve. I enjoy watching the children grow and learn throughout the year. Many teachers do not stay with Head Start because the benefits and compensation is not always comparable to the public school district, however I believe that Head Start children deserve to have to have teachers who have a passion for teaching and want to be here. I stepped out of the classroom and have grown into the director role, while I miss the classroom, I hope that I can ensure our whole program has great classrooms and not just my one classroom.
