CREATING PEACE

by Michael Uyttebroek / September 18, 2022 / Tiny, Ontario

Creating Peace

How are we to find peace in the world if we are not at peace within ourselves? And what exactly does this peace entail? What is required in order that there be peace within oneself? These are questions that must be answered if we are to live in harmony with each other as well as with the environment, the flora and the fauna. First and foremost, one must accept that we have a con-

THE CREATION UNIVERSAL CONSCIOUSNESS

by Jimmy Chen / August 5, 2022

When exploring the Creation-energy teaching (spiritual teaching) by Billy, one eventually comes across the concept of the universe being not just of a pure material nature as supposed by our sciences, but rather an energetic intelligence that had created itself for the purpose of evolution. For those who have some knowledge or background in philosophies or religions, then naturally questions would arise, such as could the Creation Universal Consciousness be another 'God' like in the religions?

For those with a healthy critical-thinking ability, this question would naturally arise, because our current sciences and development as a whole simply has not yet advanced far enough to provide concrete proof for the existence of a Universal Consciousness. Our latest scientific discoveries have up to now preliminarily led to an initial understanding about quantum physics and subatomic particles such as quarks, and beyond our Earth, so far only the nearby stars, black-holes and galaxies have been discovered. So naturally, it is still not possible to confirm for certain, whether the Creation Universal Consciousness is something real or not – at least from a purely material-scientific perspective. Therefore, in light of not wanting to turn to a blind-acceptance in the existence of a Creation Universal Consciousness, one would then simply need to keep the prospect or possibility of this in their mind.

science that guides us, that is guided by the laws and recommendation of the Universal Consciousness. The intent of this inner self is to assist in the evolutionising of the consciousness and to bring about a harmonious consonance between the inner and the outer.

The ego, the outer, which is prone to separation can be brought into equalisedness with the inner which is connected with the innermost part of the human being, the creation-energy part-piece. The key is finding and consciously nurturing this connection so that it is present in day-to-day life.

Listening to Oneself

One's inner voice can be a guide through the most difficult of situations if we only listen to it. This means being open to the inner guidance and subsequently fulfilling the recommendations through actions that lead to a harmonious coexistence. The key is allowing the guidance to shine forth in one's mind and to listen to it, to the thought impulses which promote stability and consonance, an equilibrium between the inner and the outer, a refuge in the stormy sea of events and serenity in the midst of the turbulences of life. Let your inner voice be your guide for it guides your well.

Taking the Time to Nurture the Connection With Oneself

Daily efforts reap daily successes. Fostering the connection with oneself strengthens one's relationship with one's deeper nature. It allows a freedom of action; it supports choice to act in a manner that is not bound by fear and unhealthy habits of reaction. When we listen to our inner guidance then there can only be peace because peace and harmony are one and the goal of love.

Confiding with One's Inner Self

Asking assistance of one's inner self is okay. Listening and following through with the recommendations is paramount if the advice is to come to fruition.

THE CREATION UNIVERSAL... continues

This would be more beneficial, because a blind-acceptance can lead to dependency and shortcomings, and only self-thinking in intellect, rationality and logic leads to true knowledge based in the reality, true progress and evolution. The nature of the truth itself does not require one to blindly accept something as true without exploring, researching, finding and recognising, and so therefore the question of whether the Creation Universal Consciousness exists or not is itself an integral part of the way of evolution. Thus one can evaluate, according to their worldview, recognitions, knowledge and experience, whether it is real or not, and this would simply be natural and part of the evolution. The evidence of the deepest truths have been laid out as crumbs throughout the universe, the nature and within the human being, and one simply needs to use their searching, researching, self-thinking, intellect, rationality and logic to discover the truth and gain knowledge and wisdom. However, regarding the question of whether the Creation Universal Consciousness is like a 'God' as described in religions, it is possible to obtain clear descriptions from the Creation-energy teaching and find notable differences between 'God' and the Creation Universal Consciousness. For example, in contrast to the 'God' as described in certain religions, the Creation Universal Consciousness is of a neutral pure-energetic existence, and does not request for punishment, bloodshed, manslaughter, wars or conquering of lands. The Creation Universal Consciousness is not described as a personified being, does not have human-like thinking and qualities, and only expresses itself through the universal laws and recommendations (e.g. laws of physics, laws relating to the development of the consciousness, etc.) and in connection with the Creation-energy-form in the human being. It has no demands (expressed through the laws visible in nature and reality) on the human beings for anything other than their free-willed evolution, because it never interferes in the free-will decision of the human beings. Thus, there can never be something ordered on its behest for the human beings to carry out something atrocious. It can also never be the case that the human being is subdued or under a hierarchy through which they can be exploited. The only desire (manifested through the laws and recommendations in nature and reality) is for the evolution and for the human beings to truly love each other, all other life forms, the nature and the universe, and that is also up to the human being's own responsibility and choosing. Through the human being's thinking and resulting feelings and actions, he/she forms, through the laws of cause and effect, his/her life and the world around him/her, and determines his/her own destiny. According to the book 'Genesis' by Billy (transmission from Petale, "The Crown of the Creation", highest of the pure Creation-energy levels), the Creation Universal Consciousness had, from an impulse, created itself for the purpose of evolution. It is the most immense mass of creation-energy (finest-fluidal energy) that exists in the universe and in relation to the human being and other life forms, it lives in each of them as a part-piece Creation-energy. Through the human being's consciousness-activity, thinking and learning, the Creation-energy in him/her gathers knowledge, wisdom and love over uncountable life-times in human bodies with new and unique personalities. In essence, the Creation-energy in the human being is like a seed of the Creation Universal Consciousness that grows into the Creation Universal Consciousness itself. The Creation Universal Consciousness has provided the laws and recommendations – which manifest in the universe and nature both visibly and invisibly (e.g. laws of physics, laws and recommendations pertaining to the development of the consciousness, etc.) – as a guidance for the growth of this seed, so that it grows in a guided, yet uniquely autonomous manner so that it will one day, through a total evolution-period of 40-60 million years in human bodies and a further approximately 416 million years as half or pure Creation-energy (without a human body), blossom and become the Creation itself and unite with the Creation Universal Consciousness, so that it itself further evolves, and will one day become the next higher Creation-form, the Ur-Creation.

ON DOCTOR ASSISTED SUICIDE / MEDICAL ASSISTANCE IN DYING [MAID]

by Catherine Mossman / November 18, 2022 / Tiny, Ontario

*Medically Assisted Dying... is this moral? should this be legal?
Do we really have the right to decide for ourselves on this?*

In this day and age, it seems that doctor assisted suicide, medical assistance in dying (MAID) or ‘dying with dignity’ is making great headway as an acceptable thing to do when life becomes no longer tolerable or one judges themselves or others to be useless. The mantra of the MAID proponents is that the procedure is “driven by compassion, an end to suffering and discrimination and desire for personal autonomy.”

Most of us, here in Canada, probably know of someone who made that choice, supported by family and doctors, and therefore had their lives brought to an abrupt end via a ‘medical intervention’. This happened earlier this year, 2022, with an elderly close family friend who was relatively healthy but was losing her sight. In her estimation, her quality of life had deteriorated to such an extent largely due to her macular degeneration that she wanted to end it. I was shocked to hear that her family and mine considered suicide to be a reasonable option. Before her death day, some enthusiastic energy was focused on what she was going to wear for the ‘event’, etc., prompting a sort of joyful pre-death reflection, if you will, on the character of their loved one, i.e. the shoes she loved the most, etc., who they were all about to see terminated. I did not share in the mirth and ribbing going on and expressed my disagreement with what was transpiring.

It seems that ‘dying with dignity’ absolves and suppresses any feelings of guilt that the loved ones might have and obfuscates the reality of the suicide/ murder playing out under their watch. ‘Dying with dignity’ also begs the question that if dying in another manner, i.e. naturally, would be ‘not dignified’. Is death only ‘dignified’ if one decides to suicide oneself or end someone else’s life on their say so? And to a dying person the concept of whether it is ‘dignified’ or not should really have no bearing as the act of dying is a deeply meaningful and moving inner experience that has nothing to do with anyone else, or their pronouncements on it.

Now, in Canada, to make matters worse, legal inroads are being made in order to increase the death machine’s purview to include ‘mature’ minors (currently under review in parliament), e.g., if one has a child born with multiple handicaps, etc. then its parent can make the application on their child’s behalf to have his/her life terminated, which would add on to those already eligible who suffer with mental or physical disabilities or have terminal diagnosis' who are not yet on life-dependent machines yet, etc.

There is an instance where the doctors accepted an elderly man named Alan Nichol's application for MAID who listed one reason on his form: hearing loss. Here's the story that ran about that here. That's insane!! How can a doctor make such an evaluation? Do they not take an oath to uphold a life? To quote from the linked article: Disability experts say the story is not unique in Canada, which arguably has the world's most permissive euthanasia rules — allowing people with serious disabilities to choose to be killed in the absence of any other medical issue.

Here is a quote from a website entitled 'Dying with Dignity' that states:

“On March 17, 2021, Bill C-7 received Royal Assent, a huge milestone for medical assistance in dying (MAID) and end-of-life rights in Canada. With the new law in place, the next step is the Parliamentary Review committed to in the Bill. The review includes eligibility for MAID of mature minors and those with a mental illness, advance requests for MAID, the state of palliative care and the protection of Canadians living with disabilities.”

Here is what Billy Meier has to say about the whole subject, and it is clear that self-suicide is not correct.

From Contact Report 250 on the Future of Mankind website. Billy is speaking with Ptaah. This part of their dialogue occurs after Ptaah's sentence #127.

Aha, jetzt ist mir alles klar. Dann habe ich die nächste Frage, die sich auf Sterbehilfe bezieht, und zwar sowohl auf direkte als auch auf indirekte. Beide Formen werden ja hier auf der Erde in verschiedenen Kreisen bis zur Vehemenz betrieben und verfochten. In Amerika hat gar ein Dr. Jack Kevorkian eine Selbsttötungsmaschine entwickelt, die er Selbstmordwilligen gegen ein gutes Entgelt zur Verfügung stellt, mit entsprechenden Giften, die in die Maschine getan werden, um damit den Tod herbeizuführen, wenn der Selbstmordwillige die Maschine dann nach eigenem Willen betätigt. Auch gibt es viele Ärzte usw., die den Selbstmordwilligen einfach Gifte verkaufen, oft zu sündhaft teuren Preisen, womit sie sich dann selbst oder mit Hilfe Dritter vom Leben zum Tod befördern können. Dazu finde ich, dass eine jede Form von aktiver oder inaktiver und so als eine jede direkte oder indirekte Sterbehilfe ebenso Mord ist

Then I have the next question that refers to euthanasia, both direct and indirect. Both forms are practised and championed here on the Earth in different circles up to vehemence. In America, a Dr. Jack Kevorkian even developed a suicide machine, which he makes available to suicidal people for a good fee, with corresponding poisons, which are put into the machine in order to cause death, if the suicidal person then activates the machine according to his/her own will. There are also many doctors, etc., who simply sell poisons to the suicidal, often at sinfully expensive prices, with which they can then carry themselves or with the help of others from life to death. In addition, I find that any form of active or inactive and so as any direct or indirect euthanasia is murder as well as suicide. The human being does not live to kill himself/herself or have themselves killed at will. Both, I find, correspond wie auch die Selbsttötung. Der Mensch lebt nicht, um sich nach Belieben selbst zu töten oder sich töten zu lassen. Beides, so finde ich, entspricht nicht nur einer grenzenlosen Feigheit, sondern auch einer absoluten Verantwortungslosigkeit gegenüber sich selbst sowie gegenüber dem Leben, der Evolution und den schöpferischen Gesetzen und Geboten. Der Mensch hat sein Leben und lebt dieses, um das Leben evolutiv in aller Verantwortung zu leben. Das Leben selbst sowie auch die Ehre und die Verantwortung des Menschen fordern eine bewusste.

128. Dieses auf der Erde unverantwortlich herrschende Übel der Euthanasie oder der indirekten Sterbehilfe sowie des Selbstmordes ist uns sehr wohl bekannt, und keine dieser Formen kann von uns gebilligt werden, weil sie alle wider die schöpferischen Gesetze und Gebote und also wider die Verantwortung des Lebens und der Evolution verstossen.

129. Es kann sich wohl auch kein verantwortungsbewusster Erdenmensch mit diesen Morden und Selbstmorden einverstanden erklären.

130. Alle diese Formen sind verabscheuungswürdig und menschenunwürdig.

Billy: Das natürliche Sterben ist eine letzte und im jeweiligen Leben des Menschen die grösste Erfahrung, die durch eine Selbsttötung oder durch ein Sichtötenlassen niemals gegeben ist.

not only to a boundless cowardice, but also to an absolute irresponsibility towards oneself as well as towards life, evolution and the creational laws and recommendations. The human being has their life, and lives it, in order to live life evolutively in all responsibility. The life itself as well as the honour and responsibility of the human being demand a conscious permanence until the natural end of life. And truthly it takes strength, intellect and courage as well as a great responsibility, inestimably much more than it takes to kill oneself or to be killed.

128. This irresponsible evil of euthanasia or indirect euthanasia as well as suicide is well known to us, and none of these forms can be approved by us, because they all violate the creational laws and recommendations and thus the responsibility of the life and the evolution.

129. No responsible Earth-human can agree with these murders and suicides either.

130. All these forms are despicable and inhumane.

Billy: The natural dying is one of the last experiences and the greatest experience in the life of a human being, which is never given by suicide or by letting oneself be killed.

The human being does not choose when they are born, nor is the date of one's death theirs to determine. When we come up against difficulties, challenges and unhealth is it ok to give up and say 'ok, time to die!' What gives us the right to say it is MY decision to do so, or to say so for another human being due to the fact that they have mental or physical challenges. Does that mean that such humans have nothing to offer to society? The whole purpose of life is to evolve through all joys, difficulties, encounters and experiences, and that means in all awareness right up to death's door.

To countenance death by medical suicide is an absolute irresponsibility towards oneself as well as towards the life and evolution of others, as well as a wilful ignorance of the creational laws and recommendations. Death is a pivotal moment in anyone's life and when it comes for us or a loved one we should embrace it with love, and joy, not fear and anxiety and we hold ourselves and our loved ones in love as we or they head off on our respective journeys into our death lives and our next incarnations.

TURNING AWAY FROM BELIEF

by Jimmy Chen / October 22, 2022

(Note: This article was written as a possible help-means for the evolution and understanding of the more recent events in our world at the current times in relation to the Creation-energy teaching by Billy. Since the freedom of thinking is an evolutive right, this article is not meant to restrict this freedom for anyone in any way. Therefore, the content of this article only provides clarity into some aspects of belief and its effects. Since the true nature of the universe is still not widely discovered in our current times, the content of this article only serves as information based on logical conclusions in accordance with the Creation-energy teaching.)

In today's world, wherever one goes, one is inundated by belief, in the television, media, radio, internet and everywhere else. A significant amount of news (at least in the Western world) presented are no longer reported unbiasedly and neutrally, but instead, only half-truths can be found or lies, suppositions and untruths (something that is not true) are turned into propagan-da or are irresponsibly presented as the truth and, if accepted without a healthy critical self-thinking in reality and logic, becomes belief.

Through the acceptance of untruth and lies as the truth, however, one alienates themselves – according to the degree of untruth – from the real truth and reality. The consciousness changes gear and views the untruth as the truth and the truth as the untruth and through this, further connections are made through unlogic, whereby further untruths are derived, and the real logic and truth become unattainable or even vehemently denied because they have been accepted as the untruth by the consciousness.

While the misperception of more shallow truths and honest mistakes are normal and more easily recognised, the misconception of vital and deeper truths or belief in deeper untruths can very much lead one far from the real truth and reality. In general, the human beings of the Earth would refer to this as being 'duped' or 'lied to', however, in a deeper sense, the accepting of untruth as the truth, and as a belief, or bearing false witness (also in thought), has further implications, because the real truth entails much more; it is the essence and existence of the universe itself. As the true nature of the universe is loveful and the evolution is non-coercive, the human beings in particular, as a self-conscious being, have been given the freedom in the choice of living according to the wise guidance of the true reality and truth, or not, and thus when the untruth is viewed as the truth, the human being has the possibility for his/her learning of exploring life in the contrast of the untruth to the real truth and reality.

By alienating oneself from the real truth and reality, however, one also alienates themselves from the life, true love, his/her innermost self (Creation-energy-form) and the universe, because the truth, reality and universe is in truth life, true love and the Creation Universal Consciousness. Thus the untruth, being the opposite of the truth, is everything opposite of life, true love and the Creation Universal Consciousness, and thus, the untruth is non-life, lovelessness, unlove, hatred, greed and belief. Therefore, the belief and untruth, if allowed to get very badly out of control of the good human nature, inevitably lead to unhealth, illness, disunity, hatred and destruction (the direct effects of which can be seen in the more recent events such as the pandemic and its widespread improper handling, belief in politics, belief in popular opinions, provoked wars, etc.). The secrets of the universe are many, and one cannot possibly know all truths and always assess things correctly. However, one can always protect themselves from the belief and stay on the side of the truth by remaining fair and neutral and by not jumping to conclusions, and so the uncertain, unknown and unfathomed or deductions based on rationality simply remain as possibilities or impossibilities yet to be explored and confirmed through experience, logic or inner contemplation. By staying on the side of the truth and fairness, one gains the benefit of life, health, true love and good morals, and through remaining neutral, one remains objective and impartial, and does not need to convince anyone of the truth, rather only the naming of it when necessary.

The universe and life itself were created for the purpose of evolution, and the gathering of knowledge and truth, and the distinguishing of the truth and untruth is a step in the evolution that every human being, along with her/his innermost Creation-energy-form, goes through. In life, it is often through the hard and difficult experiences that we sharpen our senses and learn the most decisive truths. Regarding this, from the book 'Arahat Athersata' by Billy (transmission from the pure-Creation-energetic level of Arahat Athersata, German/English p. 19-20):

 42. In den entscheidendsten Wahrheiten müssen oft genau entgegengesetzte Pfade beschritten werden, denn der Mensch muss lernen, dass er durch die Existenz seines schöpferischen Geistes einen für alle Dauer unsterblichen Teil besitzt.

 42. In the most decisive truths, often exactly opposite paths must be trodden, because the human being must learn that through the existence of his/her creational spirit [Creation-energy], he/she possesses an immortal part for all duration.

As it has become evident, we live in a time on the Earth when the untruth, lies and belief have become more and more overgrown and on the unique path of the current step of the evolution, the human beings of the Earth have been partly misled and partly themselves walked towards and arrived at a critical crossroads with a series of ever passing-by opportunities to turn away from hatred, ruin and destruction brought about by belief that has gotten very badly out of control of the good human nature (and other accompanying and interconnected factors such as overpopulation, materialism, politics and military) and towards the true life and true love in the transition into the new Age of Aquarius. From Contact Report 6 on February 23rd 1975, Semjase listed the seven evolution-steps of the human being:

6. Spirit(Creation-energetic)-life

7. Creation-life

Regarding the unique circumstances of the Earth human being's way of evolution, here is an excerpt from the book 'Decalogue / Dodecalogue' by Billy (transmission from the highest pure Creation-energy-level of Petale, "The Crown of the Creation", German Edition p.29, from year 1975):

194. Von unserer Warte und Ebene aus, die in den letzten Formen mit der Vervollkommnung einherschreiten, wollen wir dir nicht erklären, dass du dich ins Verderben getrieben hast, denn zu diesem ist ein sehr weiter Weg.

195. Mensch der Erde, du bist nicht besser und nicht schlechter als andere Lebensformen, doch aber um sehr vieles irregeleiteter als alles uns Bekannte.

196. Dies aber auch nur im Unwerte deiner irrealen und unverständlichen KULTISCHEN Religionen, die nicht ihresgleichen in allen uns bekannten Ebenen und Universen finden.

197. Dies aber ist nicht Schlechtigkeit noch Bösartigkeit von dir, denn du bist aus bestimmten unlauteren Gründen nur

194. From out of our vantage point and level, which proceeds along in the last forms with the relative absolute fulfilment, we do not want to explain to you, that you have driven yourself into the ruin, because to this, it is a very long way.

195. Human being of the Earth, you are not better and not worse than other life forms, yet, however, much more misled than all that is known to us.

196. This, however, also only in the unvalues of your irreal and incomprehensible CULTISH religions, which find no others like them in all levels or universes known to us.

197. This, however, is not badness nor maliciousness from you, because you have only been misled due to certain irregeleitet worden, wodurch du der Ausbeutung, der Geistarmut (Anm. Bewusstseinsarmut) und der Sklaverei anheimgefallen bist.

198. So wäre es falsch, dir vorwürfig zu werden und dich des erlangten Verderbens zu beschuldigen.

199. Doch sei dir bewusst, dass du weiterhin diesem Verderben entgegenleist, wenn du dich nicht abwendest vom Wege deiner irrealen Kult-Religionen, die der Wahrheit bössartig fremd sind.

200. Noch bist du wahrlich nicht ins Verderben gewandelt, doch aber wandelst du auf dem Wege zu diesem.

201. Dein gegenwärtiger Stand ist Unwissen, Irrung, Unrealität und Unweisheit, denn du lebst nicht im Werte des wahrlichen Wissens, sondern im irrealen Glauben an kultische Religionen, an einen Gott, Götter, Götzen, Heilige, Heiligenbilder, Idole und Ideale, die allesamt die bösesten Wegweiser der Strasse zum Verderben und der geistigen (Anm. bewusstseinsmässigen) Finsternis verkörpern.

202. Mensch der Erde, du bist wahrlich nicht besser und nicht schlechter als andere Lebensformen, und noch hast du Finsternis, Verdammnis und Verderben auf deinem Wege der Irrungen nicht erreicht, darum ist es für dich – der du dieses nun erkannt hast, da du Gelegenheit hast, die Worte der Liebe und der Wahrheit zu hören – lebenswichtig, dass du diese Worte nicht im Glauben, sondern in reinem Wissen in dir aufnimmst, um dadurch in die Liebetat einzutreten und einzugehen, die ALLES mit der Kraft ausrüstet und belebt, die die Gebote der Schöpfung in ihrer Gegebenheit bis in das Kleinste erfüllen – damit das Licht der Schöpfung sich immer mehr ausbreite, um die Finsternis, die alles durchdringt und in ihren Bann zu schlagen vermag, zu verdrängen.

215. Du hast bisher viele Millionen Erdenjahre durchkreist, dich entwickelt und im wahrlichen Wissen gebildet, doch aber bist du plötzlich in die Irre gegangen, getrieben durch dir dargebrachte Irrlehren, so du nun den Weg neu zu wandeln hast, der zum Ziele und nicht zum Verderben führt – das Ziel, das als einziges zu erstreben für dich gilt; das EINSWERDEN mit der Schöpfung in allumfassender Liebe.

unhonest reasons, through which you have fallen prey to the exploitation, the spirit-poverty (N.B. consciousness-poverty) and the slavery.

198. So it would be false to be reproaching you and to accuse you of the acquired ruin.

199. Nevertheless, be conscious, that you continue rushing towards this ruin, if you do not turn yourself away from the way of your irreal cult-religions, which are maliciously foreign to the truth.

200. Still, you truly have not walked into the ruin, yet, however, you walk on the way towards this.

201. Your present state is unknowledge, confusion, unreality and unwisdom, because you live not in the values of the true knowledge, but rather, in the irreal beliefs in cultish religions, in a god, gods, tin gods, saints, images of saints, idols and ideals, all of which embody the most evil signposts of the road to the ruin and the spiritual (N.B. consciousness-based) impenetrable darkness.

202. Human being of the Earth, you are truly not better and not worse than other life forms, and you have not yet reached the impenetrable darkness, damnation and ruin on your way of the confusion, therefore it is for you – you who have now recognised this, since you have the opportunity to hear the words of the love and the truth – life-essential, that you take these words into yourself not in the beliefs, but rather, in pure knowledge, in order to thus go and to enter into the conduct of love, which provides and enlivens ALL with the power, which fulfils the recommendations of the Creation in their actuality, down to the smallest – so that the light of the Creation spreads itself evermore, in order to displace the impenetrable darkness, which is able to permeate and place all under its spell.

203. For there, where light is, the impenetrable darkness must give way; a fact, which you are also able to recognise in the nature as a visible truth.

215. You have up to now orbited through many millions of Earth years, evolved and educated yourself in the true knowledge, yet, however, you have suddenly gone into the confusion, driven by irrational teachings presented to you, so you now have to walk the way anew, which leads to the culmination-point and not to the ruin – the culmination-point, which is the only one for you to strive for; the BECOMING-ONE with the Creation in all-embracing love.

Although many deep and profound truths have been twisted or made unrecognisable since time immemorial by irrational teachings, or are hard to grasp and prove with our material sciences at the current time, through being neutral, fair, objective and careful in assessing information, one can remain without belief. Through self-thinking, intellect, rationality and logic, recognitions can be progressed into true knowledge and experience in reality.

Through an honest neutral self-assessment and a constant monitoring of one's consciousness, thoughts and feelings, one can also learn to distinguish between the belief of untruths and the truth. When the consciousness is influenced by the belief, the reality becomes unclear and truths become hard to grasp and logic becomes almost unattainable. The more untruths, lies and propaganda that are accepted as truths, the more unclear the reality becomes and the harder it becomes to grasp the truth. The morale sinks and one becomes unhappy and dissatisfied, and if one pays attention to her/his inner and innermost self, it would be in a state of admonishment with pangs of conscience and psychical distress. Over time without course correction, hatred, blind rage and fanaticism can result and a psychical burdening manifests which eventually results in psychical and physical injuries.

When one is uninfluenced by belief and has learned to distinguish it from the true knowledge and truth, and lives according to intellect, rationality and the true reality, equalisedness and inner calmness prevail, truth is easily attainable and logic becomes second nature and common sense. One is open to new facts, is curious and is not afraid of honest questions and honest mistakes. Health, happiness, good morals and true love become constant life companions. Therefore, through the way of the honest neutral self-assessment and monitoring of the consciousness, thoughts and feelings, the truth can be distinguished from the belief and untruth, even if in the time being, many deeper truths cannot yet be fathomed by our sciences. If one learns to be perceptive, it can be recognised that the truth and untruth simply have different frequencies and energies and thus through the study of the truth or the believing of untruth, the consciousness swings in different frequencies and energies and create different moods and morale, in harmony or disharmony with her/his innermost self, the nature and the universe.

If a wrong turn is taken already at the beginning of the way towards the destination, then the rest of the travelling is already in the wrong direction until a course correction. Thus through the believing of untruths in more profound areas of life which relate to the sense of purpose and sense of life, a cascade of further beliefs result in other areas of life.

In order to be free of belief, it is also necessary to have the right life-conduct and right life-attitude cultivated in accordance with the real truth of evolution, in that all human beings are of equal value (but unique) and require their self-determination, so that there is no belief in that one is of lesser or greater value than another human being. It is also important to realise that in order to be free of belief, it is also necessary to always speak the truth when possible so that one remains in the truth and does not fall prey to their own lies in belief. In order to be free of belief, it is also important to learn to have respect for all and everything, so that one does not fall prey to a belief in oneself in overbearingness and self-delusions. In order to be free of belief, it is also necessary to have self-esteem and self-confidence, so that one does not fall prey to the belief that one's own existence is inferior and does not matter. In order to be free of belief, it is also important to realise that through one's self-thinking, one is the smith of one's own destiny, so that one does not fall prey to the belief that one's life is under the control of an imaginary deity.

While many seek their own way in materialism and a superficial life in order to be without religious-beliefs, the material part of life – while also important for the evolution – is only part of the truth and not the full reality and truth and not of everlasting value, whereby the deeper sense of life is missing and often greed, avarice, excessiveness, selfishness, inequality, unhumaneness and other unrights can still take hold, and where the purely material senses can still be deceived and be misled into the destruction of life. By the constant dwelling in belief, materialism and destruction of life, however, the way of evolution is prolonged or stagnated, and if a better life in true evolution is longed for, then a right thinking rooted in the reality, truth and logic is necessary, as well as the recognition and acknowledgement of the real and full truth, the Creation- energy-form and the Creation Universal Consciousness as it is taught in the Creation- energy teaching by Billy and recognisable in oneself, the nature and the universe, for the gradual turning away from the belief, towards the true life in evolution. Regarding this, from the book 'Arahat Athersata' by Billy (transmission from the pure-Creation- energetic level of Arahat Athersata, German/English p. 375-376):

232. Voraussetzung zur Verwirklichung des Wunschgebildes ist die Erkennung und Anerkennung der Wahrheit und der Liebe, denn nur sie allein vermögen die Erdenvölker untereinander und die einzelnen Erdenmenschen unter sich zu einem liebevollen und friedlichen Gemeinschaftswesen zu befähigen.

232. A prerequisite for the realisation of the wishful constructs is the recognition and acknowledgement of the truth and the love because only they alone are able to enable the Earth peoples amongst each other and the individual Earth human beings amongst themselves to become a loving and peaceful community being.

233. Doch solange sich der Erdenmensch nicht in die schöpferische Ordnung und in die Befolgung ihrer Gesetze und Gebote einfügt, so lange ist an eine grundlegende Wandlung zum Besseren in jeder Hinsicht nicht zu denken.

233. But as long as the Earth human being does not integrate him/herself into the creational regulation and into the following of its laws and recommendations, for so long is a fundamental developmental change for the better in all respects impossible to think of.

234. Das muss sich der Erdenmensch klar sein.

234. That must be clear to the Earth human being.

235. Die Bewusstwerdung des Erdenmenschen im schöpferischen Geist ist das Geheimnis des Erfolges, getragen von Wahrheit und Liebe und der unendlichen Kraft der Schöpfung selbst in alle Ewigkeiten.

235. The Earth human being's growing conscious awareness in the creational spirit [Creation-energy] is the secret of the success, carried by truth and love and the unending power of the Creation itself in all eternities.

Through the cultivation of true love, fairness and equalisedness, the human being also stays on the side of the truth, life, the true reality and the Creation Universal Consciousness, because the truth, reality, life, true love and the Creation Universal Consciousness are in truth one and the same thing.

WHO WAS WILBERT B. SMITH ?

by Hillar Kalmar / July 2022 / North Vancouver, BC

Contact Reports that mention Smith

Contact Report readers may have noticed that in Contact Report 38 (1975) Semjase gives Billy a list of more than 100 genuine contactees. Number 135 on this list was "Wilbert B. Smith, Canada."

Thirty-eight years later in Contact Report 563 (2013), Ptaah is asked by Billy if Smith, author of a book called "The New Science" had been a Plejaren contact.

Ptaah's lengthy reply said that they had just completed a "very laborious" "major worldwide mission" lasting "more than seven months" using new Sonaeren technology to re-analyze the memories of everyone still alive that had been identified in 1975 as "genuine contact persons". This new technology allowed them to discover which of the previously identified genuine contactees had actually been hypnotic impulse contacts of Ashtar Sheran, whose memory blocks had gone undetected by the Plejaren.

Ptaah said that they were not "immune from mistakes" and very much regretted being misled earlier. He said that their recently concluded investigation had determined the "actual reality and truth". Smith had been a one-time hypnotic contact of Ashtar Sheran, "unfortunately one of the negative kind" as part of Ashtar Sheran's plans "of becoming a ruling power on Earth" by acting as "a kind of saviour for the Earth's population, against various 'evil' alien invaders"... Recipients of Ashtar Sheran's impulses had their memories "so profoundly hypnotically and suggestively manipulated" that they "thought they had experienced contact, which is why they took notes, wrote books and also made public statements".

The Plejaren investigation was launched after receiving a tip from Asket. When her people had destroyed Ashtar Sheran in the DAL universe in 1983 they had taken 4 prisoners. In late 2012, the prisoners finally ended their 29-year silence and confessed to "many evil machinations", including hypnotic contacts with earth humans.

Wilbert Brockhouse Smith

Smith was not a genuine Plejaren contactee however why would he have been selected as a hypnotic-impulse contact of Ashtar Sheran? Who was Smith?

Smith was a Canadian government scientist. Born 1910 in Lethbridge, Smith graduated from U.B.C. in 1934 with an M.Sc. in electrical engineering. Until 1939 he worked as Chief Engineer for a Vancouver radio station and then he joined the federal Department of Transport, that was responsible for all telecommunications in Canada.

Radio was still in its infancy at that time. Smith's initial DOT work involved helping to develop Canada's wartime radio signal monitoring systems. He researched radio wave propagation, ground wave conductivities and sky-wave propagations, and worked on frequency and power standards to maximize signal clarity and minimize interference, including antenna specifications.

In 1947 Smith was responsible for establishing Canada's far north atmospheric monitoring system and had become interested in atmospheric effects, auroras and cosmic radiation. He believed that the earth's geo-magnetic field was a potential source of energy.

In 1949 and 1950 Smith was Canada's chief delegate to the North American Regional Broadcasting Conferences, which included the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Haiti. Separate NARBA agreements governed the technical standards for AM and FM broadcasting and later for television.

At the 1950 NARBA conference in Washington, D.C. Smith learned from U.S. physicist Dr. Robert Sarbacher that the U.S. believed flying saucers were real, a small group led by Dr. Vannevar Bush was investigating them and that saucer information was more highly classified than that of the hydrogen bomb.

According to Smith's wife, he had been an "extreme" skeptic about flying saucers even as many saucer sightings were reported around the world and articles and books were being written about them. If the saucers were real, Smith wondered what physical principles were involved in their propulsion and maneuvers.

On his return from the conference Smith wrote a departmental memo about what he had learned from Sarbacher and attached a geo-magnetic research proposal. This memo, dated November 21, 1950, became known as the "Top Secret" memo and wasn't downgraded to Confidential until 1969.

In late 1950, on the basis of Smith's memo, the DOT approved an unfunded but classified project, headed by Smith, called Project Magnet. This permitted the use of DOT equipment and facilities to investigate Canadian UFO sightings to "prove or disprove the existence of Flying Saucers" and to investigate magnetic propulsion. Also involved were Dr. James Watt, a theoretical physicist, John Thompson, a DOT technical expert, Prof. J.T. Wilson, U of T and Dr. G.D. Garland, a Dominion Observatory gravitation expert.

All saucer sightings were referred to Project Magnet and their investigative results were passed on to the Defence Research Board (DRB) which managed the engineers and scientists involved in Canada's defence programs.

In 1952, the DRB approved Project Second Storey, an official program that represented various government departments, to investigate the UFO issue, likely because Project Magnet officially did not exist.

In 1953, an Ottawa Journal newspaper article disclosed that a flying saucer sighting station, the first in the world, was being built at Shirley's Bay, just outside of Ottawa, and that various equipment was being installed there under Smith's management. The state-of-the-art equipment at this site included a magnetometer, gamma-ray detector, radio receiver, gravity meter and recording equipment.<sup>1</sup>

WHO WAS WILBERT...continues

In 1954, Canada secretly set aside a top secret 1,000 square mile UFO landing area in Alberta so alien craft could land there without being shot down by fighter jets.<sup>2</sup>

In August, 1954, Shirley's Bay detected a significant anomaly and reporters noticed many people rushing to get to the site, forcing the DOT to admit that UFO work had secretly been ongoing since 1950. Project Magnet was officially halted in October 1954, likely merged into Project Second Storey. Smith's research and investigations continued.

In 1956, Smith founded the Ottawa Flying Saucer Club, later called the Ottawa New Sciences Club; there were many such clubs across Canada and around the world. From 1960-1971 the Ottawa club published 35 issues of a journal called Topside.<sup>3</sup> In 1957, Smith was appointed Superintendent, Radio Regulations Engineering, Telecommunications Division, DOT. In 1959, Smith claimed research had shown that gravity could be created and controlled and was working on an anti-gravity device. Smith was diagnosed with cancer in spring 1962 and died just prior to year-end.

In 1963, Smith was posthumously awarded the Keith S. Rogers Memorial Engineering Award for dedicated service in the advancement of technical standards in Canadian Broadcasting. In 1964, a compilation of Smith's unfinished manuscripts was published by his family as "The New Science". "The Boys from Topside" was published in 1969.

Canadian flying saucers?

Various contact reports (065, 367, 519) mention flying saucers in countries that include Canada. In the mid-1950s a Canadian company, A.V. Roe Canada Limited (Avro), was working under contract to build a flying saucer for the U.S. government. The saucer was referred to as the Avro disc or Avrocar.<sup>4</sup> This project was discontinued around 1960. Avro had also been developing what was arguably the most advanced fighter aircraft of its time, which the Diefenbaker government abruptly cancelled in 1959 after about half a dozen prototypes had been built and before a scheduled pre-production project review.

What Smith apparently 'learned' from ETs

Smith claimed multiple telepathic contacts with ET UFO occupants and communication with others that had similar contacts, such as U.S. scientist Dr. Daniel Fry. Smith called ETs the "space people", "space brothers" and the "boys from topside". (topside is a nautical term)

The ETs told Smith that: the speed of light was not constant; time is a field that can be changed and controlled; UFO's support themselves on earth's gravitational field; we are responsible for our own welfare and cosmic law prevents them from interfering with our evolution; telepathy is a universal language; UFOs fly by controlling gravity and time which creates vortices of reduced molecular binding which can, and has, caused earth chase aircraft to come apart, and that we unknowingly create such regions ourselves; our nuclear explosions cause harm at source and on the opposite side of earth, and elsewhere. The above points are generally consistent with information in the contact reports.

Some quotes from Smith

"I think that these people from elsewhere are concerned with our playing with atomic energy, and about our plans for space travel and interplanetary exploration and conquest. I am sure that they do not hold us in very high esteem, and are worried about what we might do if we ever got loose in space armed to the teeth with nuclear weapons."<sup>5</sup>

"The technology of these people from elsewhere is quite a bit ahead of ours, and they have an understanding of the realities of the universe that we are just approaching."<sup>4</sup>

"...these people come from everywhere, there is no place in the universe where men can live that he does not live."<sup>4</sup>

"I make no attempt to 'prove' anything, and have no intention of doing so. It is up to each and every one to search out the truth and decide for themselves just what is the truth. Truth needs no justification, it stands alone."

"...they can change direction quickly; all this with utter disregard of the laws of inertia, as we understand them."<sup>4</sup>

"It is my opinion that the people from outside are so much like us that they could mingle with us and we would be none the wiser."<sup>6</sup>

"All human beings have descended from people who once populated planets other than the earth."<sup>7</sup>

The above quotes are also consistent with contact report information.

Gravitational fields

In Contact Report 643 (2016), responding to a question from Billy about gravity, Ptaah said he no longer personally followed the discoveries of earth scientists but believed that they had yet to discover gravitational waves. (CR 643/119-122) Wikipedia shows that the first detection of gravitational waves by earth scientists occurred in September 2015 at two U.S. laser interferometer gravitational wave observatories.

Conclusions

1. Smith was led to believe that he'd had multiple contacts with ETs.
2. Much of what Smith learned from his hypnotic contact with Ashtar Sheran is consistent with contact report information.
3. It's unclear how Ashtar Sheran's hypnotic-impulse contact with Smith fit into their plan to gain control over earth humanity.

TECHNOLOGICAL DEVELOPMENT

by Jimmy Chen / August 13, 2022

This article was written as a source of information for those who may have interest about our technological development on Earth and the technological electronic influences which were ascertained by the Plejaren and Sonara during the investigations of the manipulations being carried out on Billy's computer. According to Contact Reports 512 and 705, these influences are directed at Billy and his computer in a concentrated form, and at the present time also affect, through technology, almost all human beings on the Earth in a subconscious manner via swinging-wave-impulses. Please note that since the workings of the human subconsciousness and the finer-energies are not yet fully ascertained by our sciences at the current time, this article only serves as information (not proof!). The purpose is also to provide insights and clarity into our relatively new technological development as a help-means for the evolution and to assess its impact on us individually and as a whole, and to identify factors that inhibit the evolution.

(Note: Information in the Contact Reports that is relevant to this article has been set in bold for easier reference. For the full Contact Reports or German original texts, please refer to the source links after the Contact Reports)

66. The whole thing, however, goes even further, because the mentioned secret-service-religious-sectarian-wise built-up organisation also intervenes in the lives of all users of television-apparatuses, monitors and Internet users and manipulates them.

67. This organisation, which is protected in a secret-service manner using all the rules of the art has achieved, through the uncountable number of manipulated devices, worldwide admittance into the consciousness of the human beings and steers their behaviour in many areas.

68. As for example, before in cinema- and video-films, etc., individual pictures of food and consumer goods, etc. were inserted, which, during the play-back, were registered by the spectator-audience in a subconsciousness-based manner and who then purchased the corresponding food and items, this is done today in a similar wise by the said organisation.

69. With it the technology is so far developed through the assistance of the secret-service concerned and their technicians and electronics engineers as well as programmers, etc. that television-apparatuses, certain types of monitors as well as the entire Internet can be misused for their own purposes.

70. The whole thing extends not only to the religions and sects, but also into the politics and economy, and indeed in the wise that through the manipulated devices and apparatuses, swinging-wave-impulses are emitted, which are taken up by the human beings subconsciously and influence them.

71. These impulses steer the human beings subconsciously such that they faithfully turn to religions and sects, become religious-sectarian fanatics, suicide bombers as well as terrorists.

72. Also the politics is steered in large measure in this wise, whereby at elections, the voters are also influenced by swinging-wave-impulses, consequently they then choose those in the government, etc., as is directed by the emitted impulses.

73. Even with regard to food, commodities and luxury-goods etc., the same methods of the subconscious influencing and steering of the human being come to the fore, furthermore, however, also concerning the 'contribution enthusiasm' at begging organisations and the like.

74. Also the disharmonious as well as the religious-sectarian music are steered in this wise and through swinging-wave-impulses lead to mass hysteria, etc.

75. Today there is hardly anything that is not used to influence the human beings subconsciously and to drive them to things, actions and behaviours, which are not self-determined, but rather criminally-determined by the thoughts and aspirations of those who gain some profit from it.

76. Very many human beings are to such a degree no longer capable of their own decision-power, which they, however, do not notice, consequently they do things and maintain thoughts, which are given to them subconsciously through swinging-wave-impulses.

Billy

And probably hardly any human being can defend him/herself against it, because everyone indeed assumes that he/she acts according to his/her own will.

Ptaah:

77. That is right, because everything happens indeed in a subconsciousness-based manner.

Billy:

It should, however, nevertheless be possible, that the human being can defend him/herself against it, I suppose – or?

TECHNOLOGICAL...continues

Ptaah:

78. That is right, but it requires a clear consciousness, which does not let itself be influenced by any swinging-wave-impulses at all of any kind.

Excerpt from Contact Report 705

Bermunda

11. Now, however, Yanarara and Zafenatpaneach registered a very widespread and high electromagnetic swinging wave, the origin of which they have not yet been able to find, which, however, contain a clearly disturbing and destructive chronology, which is without any doubt exactly fixed on your computer.

12. And since you are with your device also connected with Bernadette's, her device is also affected.

13. And the influence, which takes place on the entire nationwide existing energy-network, on which you are also dependent with your computer-device, takes place through a wireless electromagnetic swinging-wave-influence, which is known to you as radio transmission, whereby, however, the transmitter, respectively, the transmitting centre could not yet be determined, from which the electromagnetic swinging waves emanate.

14. This is because the entire very far-reaching swinging-wave-field is pronounced in the same strength in the entire area, which is why no transmitter location could be found so far.

15. Therefore the emission and transmission of disturbing and destructive information takes place through electromagnetic waves, respectively, swinging waves, which directly hit the electrical energy network and penetrate into it, in which case, however, the whole thing is so exclusively directed only towards your computer that it only hits and affects it, as well as Bernadette's, because these 2 devices are used by you in cooperation.

26. Fundamentally, there is no restriction on the type of devices that can be hacked and manipulated, because it ranges from simple electrical devices, such as kitchen appliances, to highly complex and far-developed technical products, like game consoles or smart home products, etc.

28. They carry out their activities in order to maintain the might of the elites of the politics, religions and sects, the economy, the arms-industry, secret services as well as the banks and the organisations involved in the whole, whereby it is also a matter of maintaining the unpeace, as well as the oppression of the people, the freedom and justice.

29. This organisation, which is still unknown to us, is active worldwide, as the electromagnetic waves, respectively, very powerful swinging waves detected by Yanarara and Zafenatpaneach prove, which also carry sequences that are detrimental to peace and promote hatred, which affect and maliciously influence human beings around the Earth, as well as to curtail, from the ground up, all efforts for peace and make it impossible.

30. Moreover, through these waves, respectively, swinging waves in the software and internet environment, manipulations are being carried out with regard to the hardware, which are insidiously directed at influencing and aligning – through the television, radio, computer and internet systems – all people in such a suggestive manner, that they become will-lessly submissively dependent with respect to the machinations of the upper elites"

(Note: From Contact 797, through further investigations by the Plejaren, Sonara and Ziltner, it was ascertained that the 'secret-service organisation' and their technical possibilities mentioned in these Contact Reports is related to two extraterrestrial ultra-high-tech nearly-indestructible devices, which collects, concentrates and amplifies the human thought-energies which have gotten very badly out of control of the good human nature towards belief, materialism, politics, etc. One of which is used by a religious group to direct the concentrated thought-energies at Billy and his computer, while the other is in the possession of an American shadow-government member and is misused by them to further their goals. In order to provide some background for a general understanding of this theme, here is a very basic introduction into the workings of electric generation and electricity based on Earth technology:

1) The generation of electricity starts at the coal power plants, nuclear power plants, hydro power plants, geothermal power plants, windmills, etc. (note: according to the FIGU information, geothermal power generation is a very well suited source of renewable and non-polluting energy for our current needs). These electric-generation plants utilise heat, water, steam or wind to spin a turbine fixed with magnets or electromagnets that move past coils of wire to generate electricity (= AC = alternating current = electricity flows back and forth)

... or solar panels and batteries (= DC = direct current = electricity flows one way)

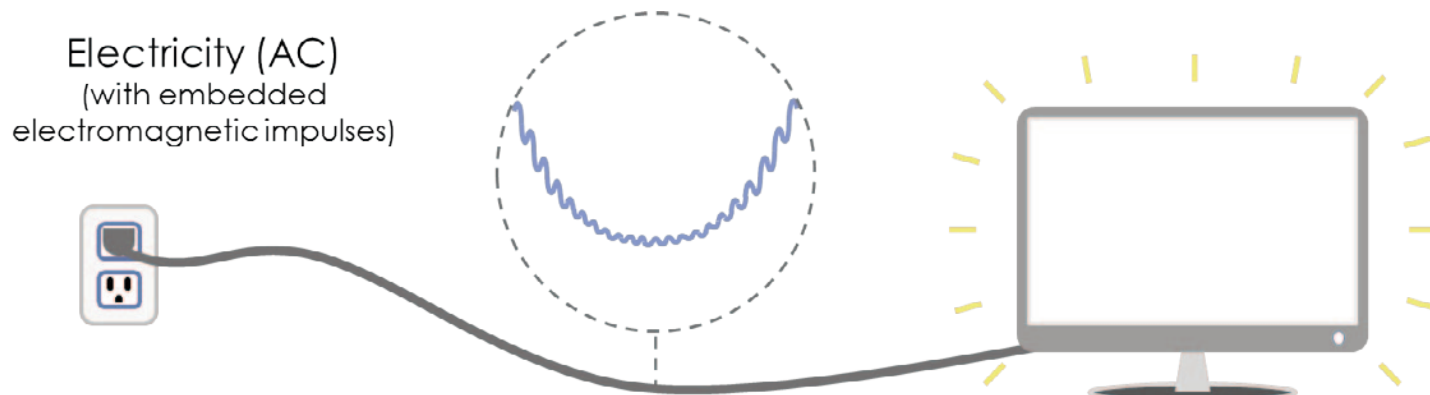

2) As it is known from our sciences, when the electricity travels through power-lines, wires or circuits, it also combines with the wireless impulses from various sources of wireless transmissions, e.g. radio, cell towers, satellite, routers, cellphones, etc. as well as impulses from other electronics connected to the same electric-grid – and according to Contact 705, also the very powerful high-frequency swinging-wave-influences (later ascertained to be fluidal thought-energies) that is present all-around, which, in a concentrated form, unfortunately affects Billy and his computer, and also all human beings around the world sub-consciously by electromagnetic swinging waves that "carry sequences that are detrimental to peace and promote hatred".

TECHNOLOGICAL...continues

3) When the electricity reaches the appliance or device, e.g. television, monitor, speakers, computers, etc., the electricity is converted into other forms of energy, e.g. mechanical energy, light, sound, or electromagnetic swinging waves generated by the appliance or device itself.

The embedded impulses are, depending on the distance travelled, also manifested during the conversion into the converted energy-forms as subtle impulses, but cannot be perceived by the eyes or ears because they are so subtle and are at a much higher frequency than what is perceptible to the material senses. For example, a household light-bulb running on AC electricity is actually constantly fluctuating in brightness, however, this is not perceptible to the eyes because it happens so rapidly (AC 60Hz = 120 times per second), or similarly, the TVs and monitors are constantly refreshing the screen 60-240 times per second and this is also not perceptible to the eyes for the same reason. The subconsciousness, however, is – according to Contact Report 512 at the beginning of this article – able to register these very subtle impulses (in light-visuals, sound or electromagnetic swinging-waves) and as a result, becomes steered towards the contents/data that is contained in these impulses.

In electronic fields of study, these embedded impulses in the electricity are known as 'noise' (or EMI = electromagnetic interference), and for devices that have more sensitive electronics, e.g. computers, laptops, monitors, etc. there are often filters called 'chokes' that reduce the noise to a certain extent to protect the device or to allow it to function properly. However, these only work for certain ranges of frequencies of swinging-wave-impulses and do not remove the noise completely – and would not be able to filter out the unmeasurable high-frequency swinging-wave-impulses as mentioned in Contact 705:

For self-powered appliances or devices running on batteries or other energy sources, naturally only the swinging-wave-impulses in their vicinity would be picked up by the conductors, wires or circuits in the appliance or device. Some appliances and devices also generate their own form of swinging-wave-impulses (Bluetooth, Wi-Fi, 4G, 5G, etc.) based on the software, internet, hardware, data or information stored on the appliance or device.

According to Contact Report 512 at the beginning of this article, like the effects of the hidden frame inserted into the films in movie theatres that steers the audience subconsciously towards certain behaviours, nearly all electronics today are misused in a similar manner via swinging-wave-impulses to steer the subconsciousness of the users. These impulses are very subtle and are usually only consciously noticed by those who are more sensitive and more perceptive. If there is a clear consciousness, sufficient sufficient self-control and self-responsibility, these influences can be realised and evaluated as such or mitigated, however, if the consciousness is impaired or the self-control and self-responsibility is insufficient, waned or lacking, then it is possible to be knowingly or unknowingly steered by these impulses, e.g. towards belief, to buy products, to elect certain politicians, or towards unpeace and...

A READER ASKS ABOUT MY PERSPECTIVE ON MEDITATION

by Michael Uyttebroek / November 23, 2022 / Tiny, ON

...it's an ongoing struggle however I am making progress!

I meditate 20 minutes per day, and have been doing this for many years, with the very occasional miss due to unforeseen circumstances. I usually do this first thing in the morning in my special meditation corner that is totally closed to everyone at all times. I use a folding barrier if need be.

In the Geisteslehre, Billy goes into detail about having your own space. The meditation that I do is changing. I use an app called QuietMind and I set the timer to go off every 2 minutes with a single ding. It helps me to divide my focus of attention. I may repeat a phrase from the 77 meditations, look at a particular symbol from the book Symbols of the Spiritual Teaching by Billy, repeat a phrase that I find important...keeping it in the present and not as a wish. So, for example: I am calm and relaxed, not I want to be, or I wish to be or would like to be calm and relaxed. Relaxation is key and also keeping it in the present. One can make up any positive value and strengthen it by repetition. This is a form of programming oneself and initiating a change in one's personality for the better. Another part of the time could be spent on the awareness of the breathing on the nostrils, another part of the time could be on the OM meditation. (O-UUU-MM) There's something on our site about the proper way to do that OM meditation. <https://ca.figu.org/meditation.html> The quality of the meditation varies from day to day and is dependant on many things, for example how rested one is, what is going on that day, if one is hungry, etc. Finally, each person has to find their own way of meditating or decide what is to be their focus of attention point. And this can change from day to day so as to not get into a mechanical rut.

Hope this is helpful.

FUN FACT: OUR GALAXY SPINS

by Catherine Mossman / Tiny, ON

A fun fact just discovered whilst reviewing Contact Report 250: Humankind already knows that galaxies spin one way or the other, mostly dependent on one's perspective. But now we know there are gigantic electromagnetic forces at work that have a bearing on the direction these galaxies take in their spin.

Billy: "It is also interesting to mention that in the free space so-called electromagnetic space currents predominate, as you have explained to me, so there are enormous magnetic fields, as well as a factor according to which one can divide space into a north and a south gradient, so to speak. This also results in the fact that the galaxies, etc. rotate both in the right and in the left direction, i.e. clockwise or counter-clockwise."

This sentence can be found after Ptaah's sentence #109.

A DISCUSSION ON THE FLCA YOUTUBE CHANNEL

VS: @FIGU Landesgruppe Canada Why do you believe in Billy?

FLCA: It is not a matter of believing in Billy or in anything. It is a process of investigating, thinking things over, questioning, applying logic and fundamentally testing and examining whether something is true or not, whether an idea or thought is in concord with reality or not.

VS: @FIGU Landesgruppe Canada I understand. What leads you to the conclusion that these things are true?

FLCA: nobody can convince another about the truth of a matter. Each person is required to do the work themselves and subsequently decide for themselves what is true and what is not true.

VS: @FIGU Landesgruppe Canada But you were convinced by Billy's teachings. People have the power to convince others yes. And not just in the religious question but in decision-making as well.

FLCA: There are many that allow themselves to be influenced by others by simply believing them, without knowing for sure whether or not what they say is in concord with reality, but in order to get to the bottom of a matter (find the truth) one has to apply one's brain and think, assess, test, look for consistency, etc. In other words, come to one's own understanding of the nature of reality based on one's own thought-work.

VS: @FIGU Landesgruppe Canada I understand your point of view. But nothing in this life we achieve on our own merit. For example, a test that we studied and passed, it was not just our merit for having studied that made us pass, but also the effort of the teachers who taught us. But anyway, even with Billy's teachings, how did you conclude that everything he says is true?

FLCA: to be specific, I haven't heard or read everything that he has said/written. Billy has written 69 books to date, not including the Geisteslehre. Everything that I have written thus far, I apply and it points to the validity of the material, however, this is a personal perspective and each person decides for themselves. There is nothing more to say on this matter other than a teaching can provide information/point the way, but it is up to the individual to see for themselves whether or not something corresponds to reality or not...in other words, do not believe anything, even what Billy says, but examine everything with an open mind.

BECOMING

Like a garden in the storm's wake we do battle with the throws of life's constants.
Yet in those constants we stand strong and true, firm and planted in the laws and recommendations.
When all seems lost in the violence of the storms to come remember, it is you who may take the hand of a stranger
And together become rooted as one.
Firm and planted from within, in the loving knowledge of those laws and recommendations that truly you give yourself.
Strong and true, all as one.
You and I, my friends, will prevail in the Peace and Harmony.
See how great and eternal you really are.
Find yourself in that truth.
Plant your roots and effect eternity.
For in that Truth, you will rise above that which holds you down.
Flourish in the basking warmth of that inner light.
In passion's breath we find the path to that not-so-distant Peace.
Live today and learn for tomorrow to effect the change with the seeking of Truth and Knowledge.
From unknowing to Wisdom, the path to peace must be found.
From within to without, in each individual.
And when that passion grabs hold seize it, refine it and become that which you really are.
Become Great, Become True, Become BEING
You Are BEING

MY FIRST ENCOUNTER WITH BILLY MAY 5, 1992

by Michael Uyttebroek / November 15, 2022 / Tiny, ON

I am excitedly walking down the long gravel road from the Freihoff to the Semjase Silver Star Center on a bright sunny day. I had just arrived from Canada the previous day and was looking forward to this big new adventure. As I approached a bend in the road, close to a garden, Billy is walking up towards me. Within a couple of seconds, and with a warm friendly smile, he extends his hand, greets me with very firm handshake and says, "hello Michael". I immediately correct him by introducing myself as Michel. Billy responds "no, no, Michael suits you much better. When I see you, I see a woman [or something to that effect], Michael suits you much better." He explains how "what one calls oneself impresses itself on the body language, character, personality." As you can imagine I was in a state of shock.

At the time I had been going by my birth name Michel which I had readopted for my music projects approximately 8 years before, but prior to that I had been using Michael.

After taking the time to consider his words in earnest with a lot of honest reflection, I indeed had noticed a change in my behaviour from when I had used Michael in earlier years. You see Michel has a very feminine ring to it. Everything has a cause and effect...names matter. What a lesson!

The life itself is a grand lesson, and in order to understand and properly fully progress through life, it is necessary to understand the basics of life and advance step by step. Every life, the human being begins anew with a new personality and the essence of knowledge and wisdom from earlier lives, and learns again from a fresh perspective the basic workings of life and, if they find the right start and the right guideline for the treading of their unique way, slowly but surely becomes a master of life.

As it is said in the book 'Genesis' by Billy (transmitted from Petale, "The Crown of the Creation", the highest of the pure Creation-energy-levels):

38. Dadurch wird auch völlig klar, dass alle Schulung zwecklos, unreal und sinnlos ist, die nicht grundlegend am Anfang allen Anfangs beginnt.

39. Ein Beruf kann ebensowenig mit dem Schlussexamen begonnen und erlernt werden, wie auch die Geisteslehre nicht mitten im Wissen oder gar am Ende, bei der (relativen) Vollkommenheit, begonnen oder erfasst werden kann.

40. Daraus magst du ersehen und erkennen, dass alle Schulung bewusstseinsmässiger Belange völlig sinnlos und nutzlos ist, wenn du damit nicht am Anfang allen Anfangs beginnst.

38. Thereby it also becomes fully clear, that all schooling, which does not start at the beginning of all beginning, is purposeless, unreal and senseless.

39. Inasmuch as a profession cannot be begun and learned with the final exam, also the spiritual teaching cannot be begun or comprehended in the middle of the knowledge or even at the end, at the (relative) absolutely full development.

40. From this you may see and realise, that all schooling of consciousness-based concerns is completely senseless and useless, if you therewith do not start at the beginning of all beginning.

Although at our current times, when many things in our universe are seen only from a purely materialistic perspective and the existence of the Creation- energy-form in the human being and the Creation Universal Consciousness are still undiscovered and unconfirmed, nevertheless, the understanding of the reasons for the creation and existence of the universe and life itself is the prerequisite for piecing together the puzzle of life and finding the right start. From the basic fundamental consciousness-bearing for the right conduct of life, to the proper care for oneself and for the fellow human beings, fauna, flora and everything else, up to the basic workings and regulations of life in the progression of learning and gaining knowledge and wisdom. What was once known in the earliest times and can also be observed and recognised in the nature, these instructions of the fundamentals of life will be available in the German/English translation of the book 'Genesis' by Billy to the interested readers relatively soon (2023-2024) for the benefit of their life and their evolution!
