What is the Hazard Award Program?

Each year, in and around the Hazard area, the Hazard Award Program chooses only the best local businesses.

We focus on companies that have demonstrated their ability to use various marketing methods to grow their business in spite of difficult economic times. The companies chosen exemplify the best of small business; often leading through customer service and community involvement.

For most companies, this recognition is a result of your dedication and efforts as well as the work of others in your organization that have helped build your business. Your team is now a part of an exclusive group of small businesses that have achieved this selection.

HHS emPOWER Map 2.0: Shaping Decisions to Protect

What is electricity dependency?
Over 2.5 million people in the United States rely on electricity-dependent medical and assistive equipment, such as ventilators and wheelchairs, to live independently in their homes. Severe weather and disasters that cause prolonged power outages can be life threatening to these individuals. Hospitals and emergency shelters as their back up batteries and equipment begin to fail.

What is the HHS emPOWER Map?
The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR), in partnership with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), launched emPOWER to help community partners better anticipate, plan for, and respond to the needs of electricity dependent populations in each community. The HHS emPOWER Map is a public and interactive map that provides monthly de-identified Medicare data -down to the zip code level- and an expanded set of near real-time hazard tracking areas enhanced situational awareness and actionable information for assisting areas that may be impacted by severe weather, wild fires, earthquakes and other disasters.

How can emPOWER help communities prepare for an emergency?
Public health and emergency management officials, area aging agencies and community planners can use emPOWER to better understand the types of emergency resources that may be needed in an emergency. Hospitals, healthcare providers, emergency responders, including emergency medical services, can use emPOWER to anticipate and plan for a surge in requests and demands for care during a power outage or other emergency. Local electric companies can use emPOWER to identify areas that will require prioritized power restoration for health and save lives. Community organizations can use the data to identify areas that will require prioritized power to help individuals recharge their devices. For more information, visit <https://www.aspr.hhs.gov/emPOWER>.
