

Cassie, 12, is putting down her electronic devices and picking up a book to help raise money for charity.

Picture: DAVECRONIN

Pull plug to help out children

TURN off your phone, computer, TV and video games for 24 hours.

This is the challenge Cassie Winkler has issued.

The 12-year old from Athelstone is calling on South Australians to join in the Unplug Campaign and switch off all their electronic devices for a day this weekend to raise money for disadvantaged children in Cambodia.

"I think it's sad so many people rely on their phones and iPads and things when people living in Cambodia don't even have electricity to cook food," Cassie says.

"I think it will be a good thing for people to see if they can handle 24 hours without their devices and hopefully it will open their eyes at how silly it can be to rely on these things."

The money raised will help the Building Brighter Futures Foundation.

The Unplug campaign is running from Friday, September 12 to Saturday, September 14. For more information visit unplug.org.au