

MATT LUCK

Matt Luck, a Los Angeles based choreographer and dancer, originally comes from Ohio where he trained with Z Company Dance. After years of assisting and teaching classes of his own, Matt made the move to Los Angeles to pursue a career in the commercial world of dance. He has had the opportunity to perform with Taylor Swift at The American Music Awards as well as on FOX's television show "Glee." Matt has also been a member of Justin Giles' company, "SoulEscape". Aside from performing, Matt's main focus is teaching and creating. In 2013, Matt created an evening length show titled "Regretless" in collaboration with Emily Shock and musician Richard Walters. Matt has taught throughout Europe in London, Holland, Belgium, Spain, Switzerland and Italy and in has performed in London based Dance Adventures "Best of British." Alongside choreographing and dancing, Matt has an extensive interest in filmmaking and is constantly creating short films that mesh the worlds of dance and film. Some of Matt's films, including "Dancing in the Dark" in collaboration with Emma Portner, have had the chance to be featured in various events such as "SourceEcreative," in an episode of "Artgrease," as well as on tour with artist Ben Riddle. Matt is constantly searching for new adventures and is so grateful for all the opportunities he has had so far in his life,
