Philosophy

My heart's desire is to teach in Christian Education. I want to share God's love with all students and staff on a daily basis. I want to show little ones how to love and serve God now and always. It is important to me to teach with a Christian, Biblical Worldview.

Testimony

My grandparents brought me to Christ as a young child. My parents were active in church for a few years when I was young. Soon, we experienced the sudden passing of my grandfather, and with that my parents fell away from the church, and my siblings and I followed. God never gave up on me, though, and He continued to call me to Him. As an adult, I found my way back and re-dedicated my life to my Lord.
