Funding is a challenge. Grants are unpredictable.

Is a nonprofit loan right for you?

Join us May 17th and learn more!

Nonprofits depend on reliable funding.

But what happens when the bank account is getting low and the anticipated funding is delayed?

Or what about when an incredible opportunity presents itself but you just don't have the immediate funds to take advantage of it?

Is a nonprofit loan an option?

Brian Quijada from the Community Investment Corporation will provide an overview of nonprofit lending programs, what lenders analyze when reviewing a loan request, and how grants and loans work together.
