

Depression Counseling - Depression often feels overwhelming and can leave you feeling scared, confused, hopeless, and alone. It is possible to learn effective strategies for managing your depression. I can guide you through this period and help you grow.

Anxiety & Stress Counseling - It is possible to take control and heal wounds at the root of your anxiety. I'll help you heal and teach effective strategies to empower and give you back your control.