

The Big Lie

Well here we are, nearly 200,000,000 Americans 'fully' vaccinated, although I have heard that some are already getting the third shot. Wow maximum protection, from what? We have a virus that can no doubt be deadly to some, but overall, the survival rate for this virus is over 99%. At present, the two-shot Moderna and Pfizer jab give you about 60%-80% protection, about the same for the Johnson and Johnson. 60%-80% protection from what? What we are seeing is anecdotal evidence that this 'vaccine' really doesn't do much. In Vermont, it was recently reported that 76% of deaths from COVID were among the vaccinated. I guess it's possible to justify receiving the shot if it keeps you out of the hospital, but to have a death rate that high is significant. The vaccine neither prevents you from getting the virus nor does it prevent you from transmitting it to someone else. Why do we need it?

Dr. Tony Fauci has flip flopped on a number of issues in this battle against COVID; from masks to social distancing to efficacy of the shot, where it originated and who paid for the gain of function research conducted at Wuhan. Here's the rub: Mr. Fauci has numerous patents regarding the mRNA technology, so stands to benefit when these shots are mandated by companies and the government. Presently there is no mandate from the government, just our incoherent brain dead President saying that he wanted companies with over 100 employees to mandate the shot. No mandate, but companies are falling all over themselves to implement. WHY? Another issue is that this shot has NEVER been approved by the FDA. Some would argue that because the FDA has approved COMERNATY, and says that the shots are interchangeable, that it is approved. It's not. There are hundreds of millions of the original shots out there, and those will certainly be used prior to COMERNATY coming on line. Those shots are for emergency use only and both the companies and the government are absolved of any damage that they do.

Now nearly 200,000,000 Americans are 'fully' vaccinated. What has that done for us? Three out of four members of my family have received the shot. Two received the Pfizer 2-shot and one the J&J.. All four of us are just now recovering from COVID. My wife says that my case is more severe than theirs, but two of three opted for the Regeneron treatment right after they were found positive. My son is very healthy and was given no treatment and is recovering rapidly. We all had coughs, weakness and lost our taste and smell. I used a protocol of Ivermectin, Prednisone and Azithromycin. After 5 days I was still a little weak and had trouble keeping my O2 levels normal, so had myself admitted to an emergency room. I was isolated and given supplemental O2 and a steroid and am recovering at home with supplemental O2. I can't explain why my lungs were damaged, as it could have been the virus or pneumonia or both. However, I was not completely debilitated and would have recovered, just more slowly. Was an experimental 'vaccine' worth it? My wife thinks so, but I'm not so sure. Only time will tell.

With a 'vaccine' now approved by the FDA, but not available in the United States, Companies, acting like sheep, are accepting Biden's mandate, which isn't a mandate. They are requiring shots for all their personnel, and with the efficacy of the shot still questionable, the Federal Government has now 'authorized' this shot for children as young as 5. And OBTW they are trying to authorize it for infants. Now what is this emergency that would have us want to use emergency authorization for a shot that has 60% efficacy for our most precious resource, our children? Kids not only don't die from this virus, one in a million, but rarely get sick and probably don't transmit it. What is wrong with us? I'm sure Tony Fauci is just rubbing his hands together thinking of the millions he will rake in because of this unnecessary authorization, but at what cost to the kids. We have lost our minds.

Now nearly 2/3 of this nation has accepted an emergency government program that has demonstrated minimal efficacy. This is the same government which has repeatedly lied to us about, mask use, ineffectiveness of multiple therapeutics, the origin of the virus, white people being responsible for all the ills the victim blacks have suffered since 1619, Trump was a Russian puppet, and many other issues, some involving the virus and some that run the gamut of topics too many to mention.

You would think science would have something to do with how the public makes decisions as to what is good for them and their families. Not so much. Which science was it that revealed that an emergency use only experimental shot was effective at combatting this disease? None. From the start, the government boasted drug company facts that this shot was 94% effective.....at what? Most Americans thought this was 94% effective at preventing this disease, but that was NEVER the case. The manufacturers never discussed preventing the disease, although the press, the government and most sheeply Americans happily accepted a fabrication. So what did the 94% effectiveness mean? Oh, it will keep you out of the hospital and possibly from dying, but you can still contract the disease and you can still transmit it to others. This was all done at the expense of not even considering natural immunity or a host of therapeutics which doctors all over this country used to treat the virus sometimes at risk of their profession. This is science gone awry, and the anti-scientist Fauci is laughing all the way to the bank.

Speaking of science, many brain dead leftists are still pushing for maximum restrictions on oil and gas production and use in the name of combatting climate change and demands that abortion be considered a constitutional right for birthing people. These two issues are key to the left maintaining control of our younger less than science-savvy population. Again, that public has bought into lies. Let's see, they successfully canceled the XL pipeline claiming how that oil from Canada would certainly destroy the planet, yet you now have our idiot president begging the Saudis to produce more oil. Who gained? Not the planet. Then for some reason thousands around the country are protesting for their constitutional right to kill their baby. Science is clear that life begins at conception, but I have to wonder if ANY of these protesters would feel the same after witnessing a late term abortion. To make sure the baby doesn't cry, the technician must kill the infant in the womb. Usually using an implement that scrambles the brain. Then to assure you that what comes out of the womb is not too real, like a baby, the baby is dismantled in the womb to ensure that the baby parts are not mistaken for a baby and are then removed piece by piece. How many proponents of this barbaric process know that....or even care.

The left is either brain dead or evil, or both, to have accepted this government's continuing and grossly increasing lies and deceit. The other Americans who have accepted the duplicity of the science community, press and government officials are either just plain ignorant or too arrogant and prideful to accept that the party they have put in charge of this nation are systematically destroying it. Only time will tell if we can recover from the duplicity, ignorance and evil of this administration and the millions of its sycophants.
