The American Embassy in Saigon at night.
I guess we wanted to be sure that the
North Vietnamese could see it.

I don't know if these are the various NCOIC's or not. Regardless, they sure aren't lining up very all that quickly. The Admin NCO / 1st Sgt is on the left with the officers.

The MSG on the right may be the Ass't Admin NCO.
The five men with their backs to the camera are evidently either receiving awards or promotions.
