

ALIGNMENT & ANOINTING OF A COMING PRINCE

UNLOCKING THE SACRED GEOMETRIC GRID CONFIGURATIONS OF LONDON

The Luciferian Ley Lines of the Royal Residences & Financial Center

With the advent of comet ISON approaching its perihelion or closest approach to the Sun on November 28, 2013, there will be a peculiar alignment before that time that will involve the conjunction of comet ISON with Mars at Regulus; the alignment will take place on October 14, 2013. Regulus is known as the 'Star of the King' or 'Prince' in the constellation Leo. These series of charts, seek to illustrate this particular alignment and conjunction that appears to have some possible corresponding alignments on Earth as well on this date. The alignment of comet ISON with Regulus will eclipse the Royal Residence of the Kings and Princes of England at a particular angle and ley-line. This will occur just before sunset at Kensington Palace on October 14, 2013. The alignment and conjunction will follow the 33rd degree angle from the intersection between the due West heading and the configured line from Kensington Palace to the pinnacle of the pyramid shaped grounds of the Royal Observatory in Greenwich, England.

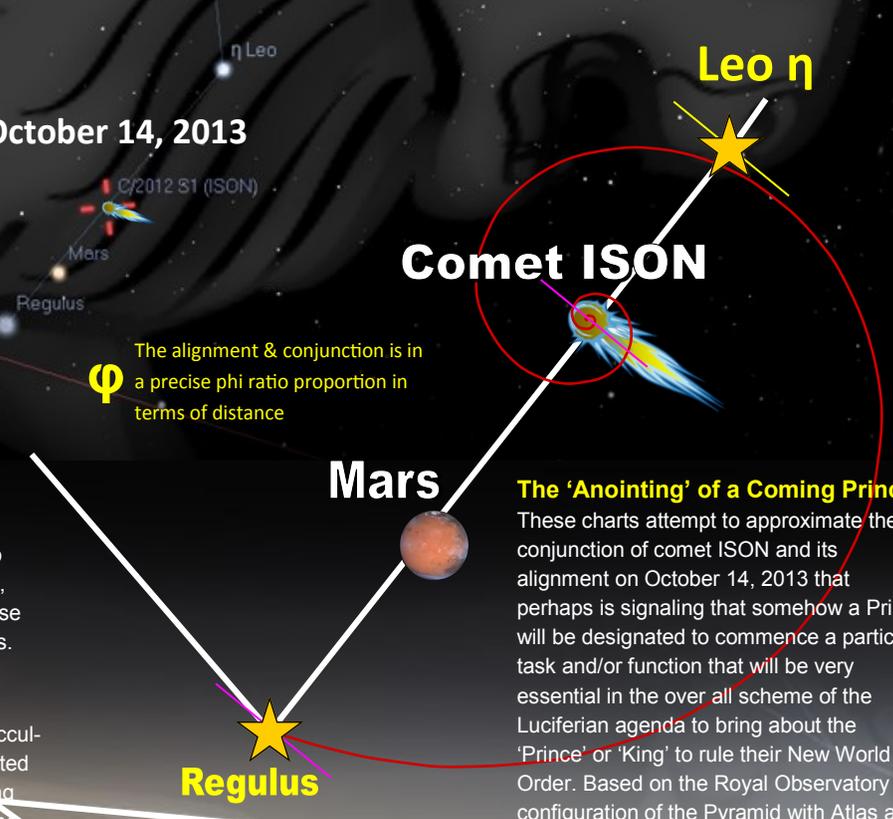

THE ROYAL ANNOINTING

Of note, Kensington Palace, in particular is the current residency of Prince William, Catherine and the future King born on the Sign of the Star of David or Remphan to other on July 22, 2013. In terms of timing, from the Star of David King's birth of July 22, 2013 to the comet ISON alignment / conjunction of October 14, 2013 is 2 months, 22 days (2-2-2), or a (1-1-1 1-1 1-1) or (11 11 11) pattern. Kensington Palace has a 222 degree heading to Hampton Court Palace. October 14, 2013 will be a 7+7 or a 7-7. From the Star of David birth of July 22, 2013 to the Prince's christening on October 23, 2013 = 3 months 22 days or 322.

The 'Anointing' of a Coming Prince?

These charts attempt to approximate the conjunction of comet ISON and its alignment on October 14, 2013 that perhaps is signaling that somehow a Prince will be designated to commence a particular task and/or function that will be very essential in the over all scheme of the Luciferian agenda to bring about the 'Prince' or 'King' to rule their New World Order. Based on the Royal Observatory configuration of the Pyramid with Atlas at the Prime Meridian, the year the New World Order and King is to debut and commence his reign is in 2016.

OF ANGELS AND DEMONS

What is most prominent about these geometric configurations associated with the Prime Meridian at the Royal Observatory in Greenwich is that for one, they are 'hidden in plain sight'. Two, they have variant degrees of the Fibonacci ratios incorporated into the angles and degrees. And three, they clearly correspond to astronomical alignments, most notably with the constellation LEO as it aligns directly to the 2 most important Royal Residences of the British Monarchy, Buckingham Palace and Kensington Palace. This will be the case with the October 14, 2013 alignment with comet ISON and Mars.

LONDON'S LUCIFERIAN LABYRINTHS

Stars, angels and pyramids are not sacred or evil or hold any occultic or esoteric meaning in themselves. But when such are depicted and incorporated with serpents, dragons, horned owls, all-seeing eye, dark towers, then these ley-lines and configurations become tools and mediums of the religion of Lucifer and his fallen demon angels. They are utilized to exploit and harness its demonic powers to further their plan and purpose on Earth.

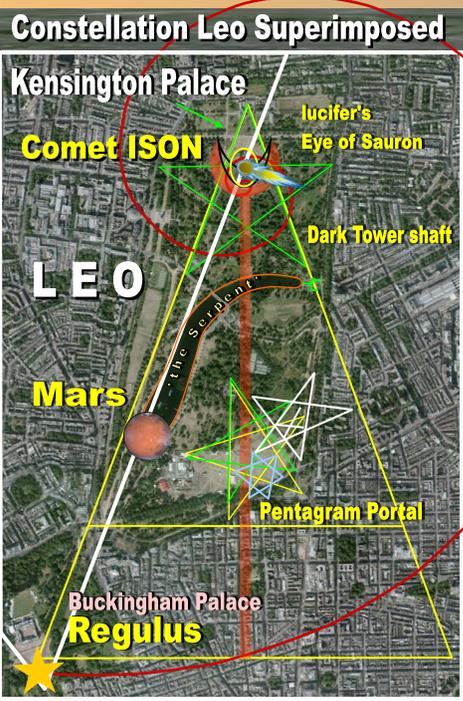

From the pinnacle 'eye' of the Royal Observatory pyramid to the 'Eye of Sauron' within the 'Dark Tower' and pentagram of Kensington Palace the alignment is at a 33rd degree angle from due West.

THE PROPHETIC PRINCE TO COME

Is comet ISON then a sign that a King will be designated in some sort of way? Or a Prince that shall come in a light of splendor like comet ISON is purported to be the brightest among known comets to date? Or will this comet alignment and conjunction be related somehow to the forerunner to the 'Chosen One'?

Will this conjunction and alignment of comet ISON serve as a 'blessing' or a 'cure' for the one that will attempt to unify and rule the world? Has the Royal Bloodlines of certain nations been nurtured for this very stage in humanity's history? If based solely on these geometric configurations of London's grid and the alignment to comet ISON in particular with Regulus the King Star to the British Royal Residences, then it appears to be so.
