entered into the service of the United States Navy on September 26, 1961, and served as a Yeoman attached to Fighter Squadron One Hundred Eleven, aboard the USS Kitty Hawk. Frank was honorably discharged from the Navy on September 3, 1965. Frank retired from Detroit Edison after 34.5 years of service. Early in his career he worked at repair shop and as a service electrician in the Detroit area. In the early 70's , he moved to Huron County and served as a security guard at the Detroit Edison Harbor Beach Power Plant. Later in his career, he served as a Detroit Edison meter reader and service electrician for the areas of Huron, Sanilac, and Tuscola counties. Frank spent many of his early years being active in the local Amateur Radio community. He was also very interested in his family history and spent many hours working on genealogy for his direct and extended family, many of which had ties to Huron and surrounding counties. Frank practiced beekeeping for many years and was always willing to share his knowledge and equipment with personnel interested in learning the practice. He liked to keep active and looked forward to helping the neighbors when it was time to take crops off the field and transport them to the elevator. Frank loved to hunt and tried to get out every year during deer season. He loved to go to garage sales and was always looking for a deal. Frank also enjoyed golf, reading westerns, and talking over coffee with neighbors and friends.
