

2025

Gung Xi Fa Cai! (Mandarin)

恭喜發財

Gung Hay Fat Choy! (Cantonese)

Chinese New Year or Lunar New Year begins on Wednesday, January 29th, 2025! 2025 is the year of the Wood Snake. If you're born in the year of the Snake, you're a Snake! Snake's Birth Years: 1929, 1941, 1953, 1965, 1977, 1989, 2001, 2013, 2025.

Lucky Things for the Snake:

- Lucky Numbers: 2, 8, 9
- Lucky Months: January, June, July, September
- Lucky Colors: Red, Light Yellow, Black
- Lucky Flowers: Orchid, Cactus
- Lucky Directions: Southwest, Northeast & South

The Snake's Personality: Calm, Wise, Observant, Mysterious

People born in the years of the Snake easily attract others for the mysterious character and graceful behaviors. They are calm and thorough and can always carry out a plan from the beginning to the end. Once in dilemma, the Snake can be someone who leads people to get out of the woods. They also have a strong sense of responsibility and have a clear goal, which helps them to reach a peak in their career.

Male Snakes are generally full of wisdom and their life are full of mystery, they have a very strong sense of responsibility, and have very clear goals. Most of them are very well respected. They are also serious and devoted in a love relationship, and cannot tolerant any betrayal behavior.

Female Snakes are charming. Their calm, serene and delicate appearance will make people fascinated. They love life and have broad interests and hobbies, especially in appreciating classical art works and traveling. They were born with an intelligent mind and well take advantage of the resources to create strong relationships with others.

The Snake's Fortune in 2025

In 2025, Ben Ming Nian (Zodiac Year of Birth) for "Snakes", their overall luck would be not so good. At work, they would be less likely to get recognition from others, instead, they may be disturbed by snobs; they need to strive for opportunities and work harder to achieve success. They may face financial stress and feel difficult accumulating wealth this year, so they should try their best to control their spending. Fortune in terms of love and relationships would be poor, and they would experience sorrowful things: singles may be cheated, while those with a mate may quarrel over various kinds of small things. In addition, they need to pay extra attention to their health and take active precautions like keeping a healthy lifestyle and doing regular check-ups.

Career - There may be villains around who would disturb the career development of the "Snakes", so they should be careful and try to keep good relationships with their colleagues. Also, they need to stay cautious and sober and don't make decisions in a hurry to avoid mistakes.

Health - Older people should pay attention to the health of the spleen, stomach, and kidneys, while younger people should maintain healthy living habits. Besides, they need to pay more attention to safety issues in 2025.

Finances - With not-good wealth luck, if they want to accumulate some for rainy days, they are advised to control their spending and start a side business. If they want to invest, it would be better to choose medium and long-term low-risk investments.

Love - Those with a partner would have some arguments with their partner, causing their relationship unhealthy; those who are single may meet someone who is not very nice and enter into an unhappy relationship. Both of them are advised to remain calm when dealing with relationship matters.

Snake's Love Compatibility

According to Chinese zodiac compatibility rules, people born in the Year of the Snake could get along well with Ox, Rooster, and Monkey; a happy married life would be likely. However, people of Tiger, Horse, or Pig should be avoided when choosing a life partner.

If you belong to other animal signs, please click here or refer to the back of this page for your general forecast for the year of the Snake!

GENERAL ZODIAC FORECASTS FOR THE YEAR OF THE SNAKE

THE TALKATIVE RAT/MOUSE (born in 1948, 1960, 1972, 1984, 1996, 2008, 2020)

For the Rat, 2025 is a year of steady progress rather than rapid breakthroughs. Career advancement will be gradual, but you can make meaningful strides by focusing on strategic planning. While financial opportunities may arise, avoiding risky investments is important this year. Patience is key—if you manage your finances wisely, you'll see long-term dividends. Communication will be essential to fostering stronger bonds in relationships, as certain connections may sometimes feel tenuous.

THE ENDURING OX (born in 1949, 1961, 1973, 1985, 1997, 2009, 2021)

Oxen can expect a productive year in 2025, with their dedication and hard work paying off through recognition or promotions. The steady nature of the Snake complements the Ox's systematic approach, making this a time when efforts will be rewarded. Financially, Oxen should experience stable growth, particularly for those who have been diligent savers. In relationships, this year offers smoother dynamics, with the potential to build deeper and lasting connections.

THE SUBLIME TIGER (born in 1950, 1962, 1974, 1974, 1986, 1998, 2010, 2022)

Tigers may find 2025 a challenging year, especially regarding career progression. The impulsive tendencies of the Tiger clash with the Snake's more calculated energy, leading to possible setbacks if impatience takes over. It's a good time to focus on refining your strategies and exercising caution rather than rushing forward. Financially, a conservative approach will be most beneficial, as risky ventures could lead to unwanted losses. In relationships, the year could bring some turbulence. Romantic connections may feel strained, and conflicts may arise, requiring patience and understanding.

THE DETACHED RABBIT (born in 1951, 1963, 1975, 1987, 1999, 2011, 2023)

For Rabbits, the Year of the Snake brings opportunities for career growth, particularly for those willing to remain flexible and collaborative. By taking advantage of networking and teamwork, you can achieve professional advancement. However, financial caution is advised—focus on security over risky ventures, as safer investments yield better returns over time. On the relationship front, Rabbits will likely experience positive developments, nurturing meaningful connections with loved ones. This is a year when emotional bonds can flourish.

THE OUTSPOKEN DRAGON (born in 1952, 1964, 1976, 1988, 2000, 2012)

The Year of the Snake holds promising potential for Dragons, although patience and careful planning will be required. Career advancement may not come quickly, but persistence will lead to significant long-term gains. Financially, Dragons should experience growth, but caution is advised. Avoid making hasty financial decisions—consulting with professionals before acting on major investments will ensure stability. In personal relationships, Dragons will find opportunities to deepen emotional connections. It's a good year to strengthen bonds with those who matter most.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL SNAKE (born in 1953, 1965, 1977, 1989, 2001, 2013)

As this is the Snake's year, those born under this sign are in for a period of empowerment and transformation. Career-wise, 2025 could bring breakthroughs, especially for Snakes, who are diligent and strategic in their approach. Long-term financial prospects appear strong, but it's wise to avoid high-risk investments in favour of steady, stable gains. Relationships during this year will be a mix of passion and tension. Clear communication will prevent misunderstandings and maintain harmony with loved ones. On the health front, Snakes should be particularly mindful of burnout. Engaging in restful practices and maintaining a healthy diet will be key to sustaining vitality and well-being.

THE EXPRESSIVE HORSE (born in 1954, 1966, 1978, 1990, 2002, 2014)

The Year of the Snake may feel like a period of reflection and reassessment for Horses, particularly regarding career goals. It's a year to pause and consider your direction rather than pushing ahead recklessly. Financially, Horses should avoid unnecessary risks and focus on stability. In relationships, romantic connections may experience strain. Patience and open communication will be vital to maintaining harmony.

THE ARTISTIC GOAT (born in 1955, 1967, 1979, 1991, 2003, 2015)

Goats can look forward to a strong year for career development in 2025, with steady progress likely through collaboration and teamwork. Financially, this is a good time for Goats to focus on saving and budgeting rather than seeking quick profits. The year is ideal for long-term financial planning. Relationships will likely offer comfort and support, as close connections with loved ones will strengthen during this time. Health will generally remain balanced, though Goats must maintain a regular fitness routine to prevent minor ailments. A balanced lifestyle will help keep physical and mental health in check.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE MONKEY (born in 1956, 1968, 1980, 1992, 2004, 2016)

Monkeys may find the Year of the Snake to be a challenging one, particularly in their career. Flexibility and creative problem-solving will be key to overcoming obstacles. It's important to focus on long-term savings. Careful financial planning and avoiding impulsive spending will ensure security throughout the year. Relationships may experience periods of tension, and honest communication will be essential to resolving conflicts.

THE INDUSTRIOUS ROOSTER (born in 1957, 1969, 1981, 1993, 2005, 2017)

For Roosters, 2025 offers many opportunities for career advancement, especially if they remain organised and methodical in their approach. Leadership roles may present themselves, and Roosters' natural attention to detail will serve them well in achieving professional goals. Financial success is attainable, but it's important to prioritize prudent investments and avoid overspending. This year will allow Roosters to strengthen personal connections in relationships, especially if they focus on trust and loyalty. However, it's important to avoid being overly critical of loved ones. A routine of rest and self-care will help them sustain their physical and emotional well-being.

THE WATCHFUL DOG (born in 1958, 1970, 1982, 1994, 2006, 2018)

The Year of the Snake encourages Dogs to be cautious and deliberate in their career decisions. While progress may be steady rather than rapid, careful planning will yield long-term benefits. Financially, it's important to exercise caution when making decisions. A conservative approach and avoiding quick, impulsive judgments will help maintain stability. There may be emotional strain in relationships, but patience and understanding will go a long way in maintaining harmony with loved ones. Health will need extra attention, particularly mental and emotional well-being.

THE RESIGNED PIG (born in 1959, 1971, 1983, 1995, 2007, 2019)

Pigs may face professional obstacles in 2025 that require patience and persistence. Career progress may be slower than desired, and hasty decisions could lead to costly mistakes. Staying focused and working steadily toward long-term goals rather than expecting immediate results is essential. Financially, Pigs should prioritize saving and budgeting. Potential financial hurdles make it important to be cautious with spending. In relationships, misunderstandings could arise, requiring open communication and patience. Health-wise, the stress of professional and financial challenges could lead to fatigue. To avoid burnout, Pigs should focus on therapeutic routines and wellness practices to maintain their physical and mental well-being.