

Shelter collecting books to sell

The Randolph County Animal Shelter will have its semi-annual book sale on Saturdays, Oct. 6 and 13, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the warehouse on Main Street, but they need to start collecting books now.

Books may be dropped off at the shelter in Wedowee or be left on the porch at the warehouse. Please do not bring encyclopedias or textbooks because people do not buy them.

They are also having a raffle-Cash for Critters. First place prize is $300; second place prize is a watercolor by local artist Susan T. Scholl and third place will be a Kindle.

The drawing will take place on Saturday, Oct. 13, at noon. You do not need to be present to win.

Tickets are $1 each or six for $5. Tickets are available at the shelter at 256-357-0101 or from book sale fundraising chairwoman Evelyn Smith at 256-770-1208. All board members will also be selling tickets.
