President’s Message:

Dear PPPA Membership

Another National Specialty has come and gone. I want to take a moment to thank everyone involved in making this a successful event. Long hours spent with facility staff and the show superintendent.

The 2023 National Specialty will be held at the Robert’s Center in Wilmington, OH August 13-15. See more details included in this edition of the PIP.

As mentioned in the last issue of the PIP. The Board will be going through the process of reviewing committees and members. If you are interested in serving the club in any capacity please contact the club secretary, Jean Evanoff or myself.

Please stay informed by reading the board minutes each month and the quarterly PIP newsletter. It is the best way to find out what is happening with the club.

Do not hesitate to provide the board with your ideas via email or phone call. Your ideas will help us grow.

Thank you for your time and as always, we appreciate your input.

Respectfully Submitted,

Susan Souza
PPPA President

AKC CODE OF SPORTSMANSHIP

PREFACE: The sport of purebred dog competitive events dates prior to 1884, the year of AKC's birth. Shared values of those involved in the sport include principles of sportsmanship. They are practiced in all sectors of our sport: conformation, performance, and companion. Many believe that these principles of sportsmanship are the prime reason why our sport has thrived for over one hundred years. With the belief that it is useful to periodically articulate the fundamentals of our sport, this code is presented.

- Sportsmen respect the history, traditions and integrity of the sport of purebred dogs.
- Sportsmen commit themselves to values of fair play, honesty, courtesy, and vigorous competition, as well as winning and losing with grace.
- Sportsmen refuse to compromise their commitment and obligation to the sport of purebred dogs by injecting personal advantage or consideration into their decisions or behavior.
- The sportsman judge judges only on the merits of the dogs and considers no other factors.
- The sportsman judge or exhibitor accepts constructive criticism.
- The sportsman exhibitor declines to enter or exhibit under a judge where it might reasonably appear that the judge's placements could be based on something other than the merits of the dogs.
- The sportsman exhibitor refuses to compromise the impartiality of a judge.
- The sportsman respects the AKC bylaws, rules, regulations and policies governing the sport of purebred dogs.
- Sportsmen find that vigorous competition and civility are not inconsistent and are able to appreciate the merit of their competition and the effort of competitors.
- Sportsmen welcome, encourage and support newcomers to the sport.
- Sportsmen will deal fairly with all those who trade with them.
- Sportsmen are willing to share honest and open appraisals of both the strengths and weaknesses of their breeding stock.
- Sportsmen spurn any opportunity to take personal advantage of positions offered or bestowed upon them.
- Sportsmen always consider as paramount the welfare of their dog.
- Sportsmen refuse to embarrass the sport, the American Kennel Club, or themselves while making part in the sport.

Words from our judge (unedited)

"I have attached my comments and I hope you and your members will understand my concept of how one goes about making their selections of their specialty. It's unique (as am I) and I don't place much value on receptive comments on individual dogs when many have so little separating them.

I think they will find the comments interesting....and if they don't that's okay too!"

All the best,
Mike

2022 Portuguese Podengo Pequeno National Specialty

The National Dog of Portugal was on full display in Grey Summit, Missouri and I was graced with the honor to adjudicate their entry. It was interesting to share the beautiful venue with another keen hunting breed from a neighboring country as the Ibizan Hound National was being held 100 feet away!

I assume my awards and placements will be included by the club along with my comments. The entry had a broad spectrum of type, balance, movement and condition. All of which enter into the results of a judge's placements on the day. Thankfully some elements of the aforementioned are, or can be, temporary conditions. In no particular order: I seek to find "the complete package". For me I want a hound that is build for the job its bred to do....and this must be done as best one can while trying to envision a rustic, agile hound being exhibited on a smooth surface in a very controlled environment.

Of course, there is always some leeway given to the young classes as they are at an "age of forgiveness" for a puppy. What is obvious are details of type the Standard directs one to identify: The height and weight might have "room" to change: The overall balance of proportions and a proper head with correct planes, profile and eyes will usually remain as they mature. A breed that asks for "agile" movement indicates to me that "a satisfactory "range of motion" can and should be acceptable...especially in younger dogs.

Overall, I was very impressed with such a high degree of correct temperament throughout the entry. I like (and look for) the breed to show me a crisp, keen component both standing and moving. Those who do that "naturally" as opposed to staring up at bait, will give me the sense of them in their element. That being said: I did allow for the exhibitors to bait if they wanted, when free stacking for me....that is/was how I got to view their overall balance and proportion...at the same time I watched for keenness and alertness.

I hope as your reading this you are understanding just how much enters the judging process.... it's not always what one "sees" from the ringside.

The class winners (in both sexes) presented me with close decisions for the points between several entries. While those in attendance may be aware: I have a rather unique (some say unconventional and maybe even weird) ring craft on how I want the dogs presented and gaited. It's important to me to see a dog's expression which is why I walk the line at the start...this allows me to see ear placement, a wedge-shaped head from the top and side, and eyes at a more relaxed moment. Many on the table will be distracted by the exam process which sometimes has eyes moving between the handler and the judge, and that can detract from a nice expression. Movement is vital to my evaluation process, and I want the dogs to have a chance to show sustained gait. This allows an entry to get in a stride and converge where needed as I watch a well-balanced dog extend to full potential. I have a process of elimination that allows each dog another opportunity to show me what they have. This revolves around a calm "free stack" ...I'm not looking for a lot of drama...I watch closely to see the shape of the breed and often one will give me that "look" that sparks some element of the breed to me.

For me: There is no distinction what class my winners come from. Same goes for who might be handling an entry. I have a special place for the PPQ and fully understand how many Sighthounds perform best for their owners, and maybe sometime that can also manifest in the reverse with an owner and their dog having some fun and/or uneven moments...and that's okay too. Again...Many a proper dog being casually handled, when asked to stand on their own, will shine...and sometimes a lesser dog, being well handled will show things that clever handling might have covered fairly well. I have a saying: "A beautiful dog may show better or worse on/at any given moment....but a showy, unattractive one will be unattractive FOREVER!

As I progressed through the classes and on to the specials class, I was duly impressed by the overall depth of quality. So many proper representatives shown well and in excellent condition. There were only a few dogs that came uncomfortably close to being "excessively" trimmed and I had to be respectful of your Standards directive in that area. I sorted them as I moved along. A few broad cuts and then came the hard part of having to let some excellent dogs go...those remaining were worked and re-worked with more intense examinations on the table and on the move, as I compared the smallest details of the breed. Suffice it to say those all left standing in the end met and exceeded the Standard in so many important aspects. I break things down to several basic principles. When I see something lacking in the breed: I point to it quickly because if I don't...we'll see less of it. Same for something I don't care to see more of.... I point away from it for fear of only seeing more of it creep into the breed. Another principle important to me as a breeder is knowing that when presented with a quality entry of a young(er) age: It's important to realize that the younger generation is the furthest down the line to move a breed forward in a positive way. This is something I understand as a breeder, and I bring those instincts into my decision-making process. I will also embrace the value of a great veteran that has (hopefully) contributed their qualities into the gene pool and will take advantage of the opportunity to recognize them.

My final line up consisted of a pleasing blend of all ages, coats, and coloration. There came a time when I determined the entry that best represented the Standard on the day, was my Winners Dog. The beautiful smooth Winners Bitch did the same for me and was awarded Best of Opposite Sex. My Selects and Awards of Merit were all top quality, many that I have awarded previously, and I look forward to seeing again.

The Stud Dog and Brood Bitch classes had depth and the decisions for Best Puppy and BBE satisfyingly close.

I enjoyed the day immensely and I thank my Stewards and the PPP of America for providing me the opportunity to share my opinions of the breed.

Juniors in Pequeños

Written by David Williams

Skylar Acebedo

David got a call from Sandra Garner asking if I would consider letting a junior show Potter at some upcoming shows. Potter is 10 years old BIS BISS GCHS Houla's Potter BCAT. I said sure but she will need to spend some time with him and see how they worked together. There was a new rule change with the AKC that the juniors don't have to own the dogs they show in juniors. I like the idea of the change and thought it was a way to shed a positive light on the PPP breed. Skylar came over and visited with me and I brought Potter to an empty ring to see if they clicked. The minute that young lady pulled out some bait and baby talked him, the grumpy old man went away and the happy show dog appeared. I gave them some things to try and told her how I had showed him, and they started working. Several exhibitors and handlers came by and commented how happy Potter seemed to be. We sat and visited, and Skylar loved on Potter while he begged for food. I asked if she wanted to give it a try the next day and she said YESSSSS. She then headed off to get the paperwork done with the superintendent, so it was all legal. The next day she came to my setup to pick up Potter to get him ready for the ring. The minute she put a show lead on him he headed off with Skylar with a smile on his face wagging his tail nonstop. Of course, I had to go watch and he was so in tune to Skylar he couldn't care less that I was there. There were some nerves and working through things together, but they worked quite well. This judge wanted them to do a free bait and Potter nailed this every time. They ended up first in a large class that day. The next day the results weren't as good, but Skylar wasn't bothered by it and said the main thing was that Potter was happy. I think he represented the breed well to Skylar and all the other juniors and parents' ringside. I encourage others that have a dog that would do the same to let juniors give them a try.
