

What if all the world is a stage? Is it time for you to get out of the audience and onto the stage of your life?

As part of our Curious Journeys series, what better way than to spend an exciting weekend in the heart of New York City's theater world and be part of a show that YOU create and perform with the other participants?!

You'll have the time of your life as you discover what character you've been playing and what character(s) you'd like to play. Whatever your hidden - or not so hidden - talents, we will find them and create a way for you to express them! Plus, you'll face the challenge of being both a leader and team member in an unfamiliar situation as you create a show together over the weekend.

You Onstage™ uses theater games and exercises to help you:

- Find your authentic stage presence
- Connect better with an audience
- Discover new leadership skills
- Become more aware of how you communicate with others
- Express yourself and gain confidence

Imagine how an experience like this could be just the boost you need for both your professional and personal life!!!!

"The international convention went extremely well. The time I spent in this class was of great value in my preparation as well as my confidence on stage." - Sales Director

"You have a gift for bringing out the best in people." - Entrepreneur

Who should attend?

- Speakers
- Sales people
- Performers
- Coaches & Facilitators
- Team leaders
- Anyone breathing!
