The Jump Start in Dialectical Behavior Therapy[®]* - 29-hours live instruction online

The Jump Start in DBT[®] is specifically designed to support practitioners in learning to deliver the evidence-based model of DBT. It will teach participants how to understand the treatment, how to conceptualize a case, and how to apply principles of DBT in individual therapy, skills training, milieu- or telephone-based coaching, and in consultation teams. This training is principally designed to support existing teams in training new therapists (individual therapists, skills trainers, prescribers, coaches and case managers). The Jump Start in DBT may also be used as a refresher training for previously trained DBT therapists who are beginning the certification process for DBT Certified Individual Therapist (www.dbt-lbc.org).

The Jump Start in DBT curriculum emphasizes case-based learning (clinical examples) and experiential learning (role plays, exercises and homework) to support the individual and team in developing the capabilities necessary to complete Certification as a DBT therapist*. Because DBT is a team-based treatment and anyone providing any mode of DBT is required to be on a consultation team, part of the training will include how to be an effective DBT consultation team member. The goal of this course is to develop effective practitioners and sustainable programs by training practitioners to expand teams or replace therapists on existing teams.

1. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT, Linehan, 1993) is a comprehensive treatment that balances principles of acceptance (mindfulness) and change (behaviorism). It is a systematic cognitive-behavioral approach to working with individuals with severe dysfunctional behaviors, especially those with chronic patterns of emotion dysregulation and suicidal behavior. DBT has been applied to a wide array of populations including children and adolescents. Research supports its use to target suicidality, treatment drop out, hospitalization, behavioral dyscontrol, substance use disorders, eating disorders, treatment resistant depression in the elderly its application with highly dysregulated couples and families.

The Jump Start in DBT curriculum emphasizes case-based learning (clinical examples) and experiential learning (role plays, exercises and homework) to support the individual and team in developing the capabilities necessary to complete Certification as a DBT therapist. Because DBT is a team-based treatment and anyone providing any mode of DBT is required to be on a consultation team, part of the training will include how to be an effective DBT consultation teams.

Each training session will include 3.25 hours of training and a 15-minute break. The instructor will augment PowerPoint presentations, case examples and handouts with role plays and practices conducted in Zoom Break-Out Rooms. There will be homework that can be completed with clients or others between each session of the course.

Master Class: Core Skills in DBT® - 16-hours on-demand

(No CE hours available for this course)

Annie McCall provides helpful tips for using the two skills training manuals (DBT Skills Training Manual, 2nd Edition and DBT Skills Training Handouts and Worksheets, 2nd Edition). She provides demonstrations, examples and practices for the skills as well as potential pitfalls in teaching the skills. This first 12 hours is practical material for anyone who will be teaching, coaching or utilizing skills with clients (individual psychotherapists, skills trainers, case managers, coaches, prescribers). The first 2 hours of the Part Two teach how to set up a group, get clients oriented to skills training group, explain the group guidelines/rules and how to assign homework. The second 2 hours demonstrates how to conduct homework review in skills training and how to treat behaviors that interfere with group as well as behaviors that threaten to destroy the group. Core Skills in DBT® will provide 16 hours that may be used toward the 40 hours of training required for DBT certification (www.dbt-lbc.org). Clinicians who have attended or plan to attend our 29-hour 5-Day Jump Start in Dialectical Behavior Therapy® can use these 16 hours toward certification as well as a means to learn Skills Training that is not covered in detail in the Jump Start. This course is $100 if purchased separately from the Jump Start.

Certification as a DBT therapist – please review www.dbt-lbc.org for more information on requirements for certification.*

9. REVIEWS

Our multiple day trainings have always been delivered in-person... until the COVID-19 Pandemic when we moved these trainings online. We were skeptical about how this would work for us and for our customers and participants. We are thrilled to say, for most people it works very well! We offered our first Jump Start in DBT- online in August... here are some comments from participants of that training.

Note: We always find that those who get the most out of our courses are those who have met the course requirements.

- Great online format! Splitting the workshops up made this conducive to learning online and allowed for time to practice between meetings. I enjoyed this style of learning.
- This was a life-changing workshop for me. Dr. Manning is such a compassionate, engaging, and skilled clinician and instructor. It was also really valuable to learn from and interact with other more skilled DBT clinicians since I'm just starting out.
- This workshop was very informative. The DBT model is being used on purpose with purpose. I've already informed previous colleagues that work in other organizations how beneficial this would be for their clinical team. Thank you!!
- I loved the training. Not a fan of Zoom, but you made it work.
- I thought Shari was amazing and real. I have sat through many trainings to which it was difficult to engage with the trainer.
- I think overall this was a great training, and especially having to change it from in person to online! You all really pulled it together and were attentive to questions and all of us as individuals. It felt warm and supportive - which is no small task being online with so many people.

- I am so grateful to have had the opportunity to have learned DBT from Shari. With Helen's reliable support, Shari made the shift from in person to online seamless. Her presentations were always engaging and she was incredibly articulate and generous in sharing her expertise. I enjoyed her sense of humor, and so appreciated the ways she masterfully helped ME manage my emotions as I approached my DBT learning. She was very understanding in answering questions and/or clarifying the content of the slides. Occasionally, I wished some of the slides were broken up so additional information could have been included (e.g., dialectical strategies), but generally the slides were VERY helpful. The breakouts offered the chance to practice skills, and get to know other attendees. I particularly liked the breakouts that focused on reviewing diary cards and chain analyses! Generally, the pacing was effective, with the exception of the last day. It felt a little rushed and I wished we had more time to spend on individual therapist suicide interventions. In general, this Jump Start in DBT was invaluable and I will be forever grateful to Shari for starting me on my journey in mastering these skills. THANK YOU!!!!
- I really enjoyed taking this course online and the ability to balance the training with my everyday life and clinical schedule. I was fortunate to come into the program with a good understanding of DBT as I have been practicing DBT for over one year and this program enhanced my confidence/understanding/application of DBT substantially. Shari was great - love her stories, warmth, and passion for DBT. The breakouts were helpful to hear other people's perspectives and experience.
- Thank you so much! I feel like although I am still so new to DBT and have a lot to learn, this was indeed a great jump start into learning more about the clinical practice and how to apply these skills. It meant a lot to be able to participate in this training, thank you for hosting despite the community health issues at hand. I thought it went really well on zoom!
- It felt a little advanced. Having the instructions for the breakout rooms in the chat would be helpful. Over all the presenter was very knowledgeable and I enjoyed learning from her. Thank you!!
- This training format allows for time to implement interventions a bit at a time, which feels good for me since I learn best by applying principles and techniques.
- Shari is extremely knowledgeable and I love the way she presents this info. I have been working with DBT for years and I still am learning a lot from this training.
- I like the fact we were able to download the power points and follow as she presented. I like how she was able to meet most of us where we were pertaining to being new to DBT and explaining it so that we understood. She was not rushing or irritated with the questions. I actually liked how we were able to split up and engage by small group for discussion. I met some new people.
- I liked the pace of the training. The 3-hour block is very doable with breaks. Breakout sessions and Shari attending to questions makes the learning more interactive and less fatigue-inducing.
- Absolutely amazing! You are so organized and zoom fantastic!
