About Houston

Houston is the fourth-most populous city in the United States, located near the Gulf of Mexico. Houston's economy has a broad industrial base in energy, manufacturing, aeronautics, and transportation. It is also leading in health care sectors and building oilfield equipment. The Port of Houston ranks first in the U.S. in international waterborne tonnage handled and second in total cargo tonnage handled. Houston received the official nickname of "Space City" in 1967 for its location of NASA's Johnson Space Center. The most attractive sight spots include museums, theaters, NRG stadium, and shopping malls.
