Calling all facilitators -- new and experienced! It's time to think outside the box and expand our reach to evenings or the weekend for the 2018-2019 Study Group Season.

As our membership continues to grow, we need to continue to be creative, accommodating and welcoming. Some people still work and others have non-Brandeis commitments (those adorable grandkids!) that make daytime study groups impossible.

It's never too early to be thinking about new ways to explore our area, make new friends, and learn new things.

✧ What about a study group that can be offered on the weekend or on a weekday evening?
✧ Maybe you can team up with a friend or two to co-facilitate a study group.
✧ Maybe you have been hoping that Brandeis would offer a study group for your particular passion -
   We’ll be more than happy to help YOU get it off the ground.

HERE ARE JUST A FEW IDEAS IN NEED OF FACILITATORS:

✧ Canasta for Beginners  ✧ Debut Novels Book Group  ✧ Play Scrabble

✧ Play Poker  ✧ Gluten-Free or Healthy Cooking

Almost all of our groups are co-ed, so couples can join together. Facilitator training is provided !! Let us hear from you.

Please send your ideas for study groups that YOU would be willing to facilitate to:

2018-19 Study Group VPs, Joellyn Pollock and Kathleen Witkin

Special Note to Winter Residents and Summer Travelers

Since some Groups frequently reach their group maximums very quickly, we suggest signing up from wherever you are spending the summer months. Watch for the e-blast in August that will announce that the Guide is online.

Thank You

The 2017-18 Study Group season is coming to a close. We hope that you have enjoyed participating in the wide variety of study groups this year and, as always, we especially want to thank our facilitators for making this the best season ever!

Brandeis Happenings

National Center for Jewish Film’s annual festival starts May 2

The National Center for Jewish Film’s annual festival will feature limited release screenings, regional premieres and insightful discussions from May 2 to 13.

Professor of American Studies Thomas Doherty, Adjunct Associate Professor of Jewish Film, along with Executive Director of the NCJF Sharon Pucker Rivo, and Hadassah-Brandeis Institute Research Associate Dalia Wassner, will participate in post-screening film talks during the festival.

Additionally, many of the events are being sponsored or presented by Brandeis organizations. Founded in 1976, The National Center for Jewish Film is an independent non-profit organization with its offices located on the Brandeis campus. It features more than 15,000 reels of feature films, documentaries, newsreels, home movies and institutional films date from 1903 to the present.

Click HERE for the film festival screenings scheduled to feature discussions with Brandeis faculty, including Professor Doherty, mentioned above, who gave a well-received talk about television series such as Breaking Bad, Mad Men and Downton Abbey at our chapter’s University on Wheels in 2016.
