SUPPORT

Should I be concerned...

if my baby can't hold a rattle?

if my child seems disengaged with me?

if my baby cries every time I leave the room?

if my child has not started talking?

if my child can't pass a toy to their sibling?

if my child is stuttering?

if my child was born premature?

if my child does not run?

To all the questions parents may have, Child Development Services at CARC has a team ready to find the answers. There is no instruction book for raising children, but the CARC team is here to meet the needs of your family to naturally support the children in our program.

Early Intervention

Early intervention is a childhood program, providing services from birth to 36 months at no cost to your family. The program serves families whose children are born with a disability or at risk of developing delays. Not sure if your child will qualify? Give us a call and we will help begin the process for evaluation.

“The program meets your unexpected expectations even when you think they can’t.”
