

MAPPLETON : Two stones groynes have been built, one at either end of the defended section of cliffs. This retards longshore drift and helps to build up the beach that absorbs wave energy and prevents erosion, The southern groyne (shown here) is the largest one as longshore drift is generally from north to south due to the dominant wave approach from the north east.

