What Information Do We Collect?

When you visit our website you may provide us with two types of information:

- "Personal Information" (which includes "Email Information")—data that you knowingly choose to disclose—that is collected on an individual basis and;
- "Website Use Information" collected on an aggregate basis as you and others browse our website.

About Information We Collect

Personal Information

You may be asked to provide information about yourself, and/or your company, and related information when you register to download software, register for certain services, or register for email newsletters and alerts. You may also provide additional comments on how you see Vortex Systems servicing your needs and interests.

Email Information

If you choose to correspond with us through email, we may retain the content of your email messages together with your email address and our responses.

Website Use Information

Similar to other commercial websites, our website utilizes a standard technology called "cookies" and Web server logs to collect information about how our website is used. Information gathered through cookies and Web server logs may include the date and time of visits, the pages viewed, time spent at our website, and the websites visited just before and just after our website. We, our advertisers and ad serving companies may also use small pieces of code called "web beacons" or "clear gifs" to determine which advertisements and promotions users have seen and how users responded to them.

Our Commitment To You

"Personal Information" stored in our database is for internal use only. Your information will not be sold to third-parties.
