

Moses

Moses came to HANR with little training and some fear issues from having been treated with a heavy hand. We first met Moses as he came to us as a foster dog looking for his forever home.

Although Moses had a difficult time trusting humans at first, he loved his canine family right away and he ended up becoming a permanent part of our family. It was a slow training process, but Moses is now four years old and you would not recognize him as the same untrained and overactive Newf that first came to our home.

Through positive training, help from our many friends in HANC, and a confident resident Newf to help show him the way, Moses has learned to be a sweet, well-behaved, and happy-go-lucky Newf. He has since participated in parades, holiday ceremonies, and attended the Renaissance Fair where he has been a great ambassador of the Newfoundland breed.

He has learned that things he loves come from people....things like treats, pets, ear rubs, and tummy scratches. He plays a mean game of tug-o-war with the other Newfs and can actually tell time. He lets me know when it is 5 o'clock every evening, without fail. Moses loves a good bone, to go on walks and loves a trip with Daddy through the Sonic drive-through.

Moses has been a wonderful addition to our family and happily accepted a Newf puppy into our pack a few months ago. He is a very tolerant big brother and is showing him the ropes. Although I wondered what I had gotten myself into when he first came to our home, he has been worth every moment of training together and taught us that love does conquer all!

Thanks!

Kendell
