

IN & OUT & IN-BETWEEN

By Sonia Horon

IN

The "KING" Is Back. The U.S. Postal Service has previewed the Music Icons: Elvis Presley Commemorative Forever Stamp and joined with Sony Music's RCA/Legacy Recordings to announce the debut of an exclusive music CD titled ELVIS FOREVER that includes an Elvis song, as you've never heard it. The CD is available online and in select Post Offices beginning NOW. On August 12th, the day of the Elvis Presley stamp dedication ceremony, Priscilla Presley joined Postmaster General Megan Brennan in dedicating the stamp at Graceland in Memphis as part of this year's Elvis Week celebration. The Postal Service previously honored Presley on a stamp in 1993. The Smithsonian's National Postal Museum calls that stamp the most popular U.S. commemorative stamp of all time. This stamp features a 1955 black-and-white photograph of Presley taken by William Speer. On the bottom corner, between the words "Forever" and "USA" is a gold crown, a nod to Presley's nickname, The King of Rock 'n' Roll. Presley's signature, in gold ink is featured along the right side of the stamp. Customers can get this track by picking up a copy of ELVIS FOREVER at their local Post Office location, or order stamps and the commemorative $9.99 CD at USPS.COM.

OUT

WHAT THE HELL?

Is the concept of having a "nanny" in Tinseltown on its way OUT? Following in the footsteps of the Terminator (as it turns out these days a more than appropriate title for some wives in Hollywood who are pulling the plug on their marriages) the latest duo to get Marital Termination Papers are Ben Affleck and Gavin Rossdale — who gossip tabloids are reporting minute by minute details of their alleged cheating with who else — their kids nannies bringing forth what else — the termination of their marriages by wives who, on the Richter Scale of "cheating" have had enough, and must be humiliated, and pissed out of their minds. YEP. No Doubt. WAIT isn't that the name of Rossdale's wife Gwen Stefani's rock band? The world is still spinning in its highest heels over Maria Shriver/Arnold Schwarzenegger/husband/nanny fiasco AND now this! WTF. Guess it's not enough being married to talented, beautiful, entrepreneur-type woman, who BTW just happens to be the mother of your kids? OMG what is it with husbands who can't keep their pants zipped up around their kids nannies? It's a growing Hollywood epidemic worse than the flu. Like we don't have enough ordinary people sh*t on our minds like paying rent, keeping our jobs, and making car payments... NO. Guess not. We have to listen to, and read about people who have it all, and still it's not enough? Bottom line: If famous, gorgeous, and successful, Hollywood A-list wives with herds of kids hanging on their apron strings, can't get around slick, stealthy, tricky dick husbands who can't keep IT in their pants around their KIDS NANNIES — what chance does the rest of normal, everyday women have? It just proves once again that even if you're a 10 (like the wives) you aren't immune to TNT (The Nanny Threat). Trying to piece this thing together to make sense (if it's actually true) — maybe researching on a cheating husband in "Gone Girl" got to him, and Affleck was caught up in trying to bring his role to life, and didn't want to break character when he left the studio? Maybe? No? Could be? Now what? The sad news: it looks like his wife Jennifer Garner is "Gone Baby Gone". Ladies better take a lesson from actress Jessica Biel (married to Justin Timberlake) who reports say hired two gay male nannies to look after their baby son. Sounds fabulous! You get the best of both worlds. A good-looking (for certain) attentive, qualified, sensitive companion who hangs around the house, you, and the kids day and night, AND you don't have to worry about your husband keeping his zipper up when you aren't around. Then again... This is LA... Better be sure...

Pretty scary. Both Tom Brady and his reported Diva Demands. Perhaps having a Diva Supermodel wife (Gisele Bundchen) has rubbed off on Brady, a four time Super Bowl winner, who looks to be in HOT WATER with his fans after e-mails showcasing his prima donna behavior were released as part of the "Deflategate" case. The now-on-suspension, New England Patriots Quarterback referred to the owners of a pool supply company as "morons" and "fucking idiots" it seems because they didn't have a pool cover in the athlete's color of choice. SAY WHAT? Revelations of his mouth froth came in a report submitted to Federal court, where Brady has appealed his punishment from an NFL investigation that found him guilty of the knowledge that his balls were purposely deflated. Let's all pray together that "Tom Terrific" as he's known to his teammates, can use the strategies he applies to his balls, to deflate a prissy behavior. NO?

IN-BETWEEN

Sure, it's well-known in the music industry. Or while driving to the grocery store with nothing on your mind, but food for dinner. Or on days when you hate the world, and want everyone to know it. Or when you're trying to romance your new "flavor of the month" and can't keep your hands off each other even when wheels are spinning. T H E N driving in your car and listening to blaring music ringing out tunes that annoy the hell out of pedestrians in crosswalks and piss off people at stop signs who give you crusty looks because they think you are going to run them over... IT MAKES SENSE. But it seems Rolls Royce has taken the concept "Ear For Music" to an entirely new level releasing its special edition model "The Rolls Royce Wraith" which the company says it designed specifically with MUSIC JUNKIES in mind. SAY WHAT? This modern gentleman's favorite, shiny bed-on-wheels toy is proud to boast an impressive 18 Channel Stereo System, with the ability to BLOCK out any outside noise. IS THAT EVEN LEGAL? Maybe in an IMAX movie theater, but on the street? What if a fire engine, ambulance, driver/pedestrian in trouble, or screaming kid running after a ball pops out of nowhere, and you don't see it because you're busy listening to a screeching, blasting, booming, earsplitting, metallic rock concert, or a resounding, piercing, thundering philharmonic symphonic orchestra in your car? YIKES! Hey... is that a lawsuit server I see coming, or just an ugly guy in a cheap suit headed my way? Rolls Royce claims that the music inspired car has "the most exhaustively designed sound system in automotive history." Well, that's fabulous for the car. Now, let's hope the driver has Superman day/night goggle vision, and Spiderman fast reflexes while driving. It's almost beyond a scary thought that someone — who is operating a MOVING VEHICLE needs to get so lost in music while driving, that a $400,000 sound proof tank is required. GEEZZE FRICKIN' LOUISE. Now, I'm not saying that I wouldn't take the car if Rolls Royce offered it to me for FREE... Get Real! ■