2016 - 2017 Kelleys Island School

Angie Green, Kelleys Island Teacher

From The Mayor's Desk

Welcome back to the island....let the fun begin.

As you may have noticed, we are again doing some much needed road work which by the time the June issue of Kelleys Life comes out, should be completed.

Chappel Street was milled and resurfaced from Division Street to Addison Street, East Lake Shore Drive, from the marina exit/entrance to Addison Street, was deep road repaired and resurfaced. Monagan Road, in front of Camp Patmos to the privacy gate to Long Point, was pulverized and rolled. This surface will be left this way until next year at which time, it will be chipped and tarred. Pothole repairs were made island wide...hope we got them all.

Crack sealing was done on Division Street from the Village Hall to the school and all of Addison Street. Coating and re-stripping was done on the Village Hall, Municipal building and Fire Station parking lots. The floor of the Addison Street pavilion was only coated.

A repair was made to the water shut off valve at the North East corner of Division Street and East Lake Shore Drive. This was damaged during last year’s road project. This valve supplies water to the drinking fountain and the hose hook up used to water the flowers at the Memorial Park.

There are two small drainage projects scheduled for the East and West side of Division Street. If there is any road closing, it should only one lane.

The Island Alert Program is up and running. If you would like to register, go to kelleysisland.us and at the top left of the home page is Alert sign up. The only organizations that will post an alert are our safety services or village administrative personnel.

The Addison Street pavilion will be having the East and West ends covered with a maintenance free product in the upcoming months. This project was made possible by an $8000.00 donation from the Kelleys Island Land Owners Association.

At the May council meeting, Ron Doe and Tom Beck were approved to fill the vacant board positions on the Transfer Station and Parks and Recreation respectively.

See you in July... Mayor Cooper

Congratulations!

Pharmacist, Donald Chopchinski, will be awarded The Wright Brothers Master Pilot award at the Lorain County Sheriff’s office on Thursday, June 1, 2017.

Don was the owner of Middendorf Pharmacy in Lorain, President of Air Central at the Lorain County Airport, Director of Pharmacy at Lutheran and Fairview Hospitals, and spent twenty years with Lorain County Drug Task Force.

Road Closure – Annual 5K & 10K Run/Walk

On Sunday, June 11 from 10:45 – 1:00 p.m., the roads which are being used for the race route will be closed to all through traffic. Please be sure to plan any travel for before or after the race. Please be courteous to our runners, this is a great event. Please take thiers and others safety into consideration.

The race will begin just before the Kelleys Island Ferry Boat entrance at 10:45. The 5K will proceed west on Lakeshore Drive, a little past the trailer park and back to Memorial Park. The 10K will proceed west on Lakeshore Drive, up Division Street, rounding the entire block before coming back to Division Street. Runners will then proceed north on Division Street, around Titus Road to W. Lakeshore Drive and head back to Memorial Park. All races will be led by a police cruiser and followed by a couple of golf carts. The 1-mile Fun Run will begin at noon at the intersection of Division Street and Lakeshore Drive and go around the block.

Thank You for your consideration. Kelleys Island Chamber of Commerce
Letter from the Chief of Police:

I hope everyone had a great Memorial Day weekend!!! Glad to see everyone with their smiling faces, coming back to the island. Also, prayers to some of Kelleys Island residence who have lost loves ones this year. Now, let’s get to some island business.

First, with the weather getting nice and the start of the season, I would like to ask everyone to obey all traffic rules. With more people coming back to the island now, not obeying traffic rules could be a safety issue to some. Because of many complaints from island residents, we will be paying close attention to the following Kelleys Island Code of Ordinances. (73.72) Operating without License Plates, (73.72) Speed Limits, (70.05) Stop Signs (137.08) Discharging Firearms; this can only be done if it’s a charity event authorized by the Chief of Police by permit, target shooting between November 1 and May 1, which must be in accordance with division (B) below to control person in the proper exercise of the right of self-defense. (B) Target shooting with firearms shall only be permitted between the hours of 1:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. every day of the week provided that the target area is approved by the Chief of Police. New forms can be obtained at the Kelleys Island Police Department. References of this complaint will be on file after the Chief of Police inspects the back stop for the address in question and signs off that this was done. Another complaint brought to my attention and to council was the many houses with no address numbers. (95.14) House Numbering Plan. I believe this is a safety issue for police, fire and EMS when trying to locate someone’s home that could be in dire need of help and minutes count. Whoever violates any provisions of this chapter, for which another penalty is not already provided, shall be guilty of a fourth degree misdemeanor. Each day a violation continues or occurs by any person in the possession of the vehicle shall not prevent the village from seeking injunctive relief in the court of common pleas. Last on the complaint list is historical license plates ORC (4503.181) Historical motor vehicles. As is used in this section, “historical vehicle” means any motor vehicle that is more than twenty-five years old and that is owned solely as a collector’s item and for participation in club activities, exhibitions, tours, parades, and similar uses. A historical motor vehicle shall not be used for general transportation, but may be operated on the public roads and highways to and from a location where maintenance is performed on the vehicle.

Lastly, on April 8th 2017 council voted in the new APV ordinance.

KILA Korner

Hello all! The KILA Korner is something new that has been happening at Kelleys Island Landowner Association meetings. Kelles Life has allowed us a “Korner” for information, updates and KILA activities. Look for us with each printing of Kelles Life! As the 2017 summer season starts, I would like to take a few minutes to cover something I get a lot of questions about. In regards to Kelles Island Landowners Association yearly dues: People ask me, “Why do I have to pay yearly dues when I am a lifetime member?” Yes, once you pay to join KILA you are a lifetime member every year there is also a $10 per year fee to make the member active. Your dues help offset the cost of keeping the members informed, the great work KILA does as a whole for the Kelleys Island community, as well as projects, Homecoming, the annual hayride and our Potluck dinner. Please see membership form on page 5.

Speaking of the Potluck dinner, it will be held on June 27th in the pavilion at the Kelleys Island ballfield. Please come and enjoy some time together on the island. Thank you all and look for the KILA Korner in the next edition!

KILA - President’s Message

Chris Arnold, President

Dear KILA Members, It’s 2017 and we are starting to gear up for another great summer. We have a lot of projects that are being completed this year. This is all possible with the support of our members and of course our hard working board members. Here is a list of the projects from the last year and upcoming ones:

- Sponsored a church window replacement with the KI historical Society.
- Donated monies to Absolutely! KI for the new Playground in Memorial Park. For the first time KILA had a large raffle in 2016 and it was a huge success!!! We were able to do a KILA sponsored project to benefit our community.
- KILA will repair and update the prize box of your choice for a $10 per year fee. Cards will now only be sent to active members that are current as of May 31 each year. Your dues and other KILA activities help our beautiful island. Again, a big thank you to you all!!!

Please feel free to attend our meetings held the 3rd Saturday of each month at Estes School at 10am. The dates are: May 20th, June 17th, July 15th, Aug 12th (Due to Homecoming at 18th). Sept 16th, Oct 21st.

Bishop Daniel Thomas has appointed Reverend Nathan F. Bockrath Parochial Administrator of St. Michael’s Catholic Church and also Mother of Sorrow Parish at Put-in-Bay in addition to his current position of Parochial Vicar of St. Ann’s Parish and St. Joseph’s Parish in Fremont effective July 1, 2017. Stanley makes his appearance before and after the Masses at St. Michael’s Catholic Church on Kelleys Island sometimes preventing church goers from getting in or out of their cars. It’s the opinion that Stanley may just be lonely since he is the only turkey on the island. He loves to see his reflection in the car hubcaps and thus follows the cars down the road as parishioners leave church. So, if you see Stanley, know that he won’t hurt you but run as fast as you can to get in or out of church.

Great Lakes Coast Guard Highlights Boat Operator Responsibilities

As the annual observance of National Safe Boating Week launches Saturday and the boating season across the Great Lakes gets underway, the Coast Guard is highlighting the responsibilities of boat operators, including the results and dangers of operator inattention, insufficient lookout and inexperience.

National Safe Boating Week, which runs from May 20-26, is an annual observance sponsored by the National Safe Boating Council, endorsed by the U.S. Coast Guard and promoted by multiple state and local agencies throughout the United States.

In 2015, more than 1,400 accidents were attributed to inattention, operator inattention or from not having a proper lookout, which resulted in nearly 900 injuries and 112 fatalities. In the eight states surrounding the Great Lakes, there were 247 accidents resulting in 176 injuries and 17 fatalities in 2015.

These statistics highlight the important and life-dependent responsibility that rests on the shoulders of boat owners and operators. Just like the driver of a car is responsible for the safety of his/her passengers by knowing the rules of the road, having proper emergency gear, driving defensively, keeping aware of other vehicles and hazards, and knowing how to call for help, it is imperative that boat operators recognize the same responsibility.

Without the proper knowledge, preparation and experience, a planned day of fun in the sun can turn dangerous and deadly, quickly.

The Coast Guard recommends that boat owners and operators:

- Take a boating safety course to learn the rules of the road and boating safety best practices. To find a safety course near you, contact the Coast Guard Auxiliary by visiting cgaux.org/boatinged/ or http://www.cgaux.org/boatinged/.
- Make sure you have enough Coast Guard-approved life jackets on board your vessel for every passenger, and that they’re easily accessible. Don’t underwater your life jackets or let them go to the bottom of the deck. Better yet, wear them! [https://content.gove/ delivery/accounts/USDfSCC/guiletdias/ka961f]! Donning a life jacket is much harder once you’re in the water, especially if you’re injured.
- Designate a lookout on your vessel, other than the operator, every time you get underway. Lookouts should monitor the surroundings for other boats, swimmers, kayaks, boating debris, and traffic around break walls and piers. ‘Having a designated lookout can be one of the most important things to have aboard while underway,” saidBSB, the recreational boating safety specialist for the Coast Guard 9th District in Cleveland. Keeping a proper lookout helps boaters to see potential hazards and take proper action to avoid them before they become a problem.
- Share the Road or waterways in this case. Just like you maintain a safe speed on the road and are cautious of other vehicles and pedestrians, do the same on the water and stay clear of ships, water taxis, towboats tugs and barges. And, be aware of your wake to avoid potential harm to other boaters, kayakers and personal property.
- Always check the weather before getting underway, and continue to monitor the forecast. This can be done by tuning into TV, radio or via weather band radios, and by keeping your eyes to the skies. Conditions can change rapidly, particularly on hot, humid days.
- Get a free vessel safety check to make sure your boat is in proper working order and that you have the proper emergency gear such as flares and fire extinguishers. Just like you take your car in for a scheduled check-up, vessel safety checks are the best way to learn about problems with your vessel that may create a danger to you and your passengers. Safety checks are offered by experienced members of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and U.S. Power Squadrons.

Let someone on land know where you are going and when you expect to return. For longer trips, file a float plan with someone on land and provide pertinent information such as description of your boat, who is on board, where you’re departing from, your destination and time of arrival.

You don’t drink and drive, so don’t drink and boat. Alcohol is the leading known contributing factor in fatal boating accidents, just as dangerous and illegal as drinking and driving a motor vehicle. Alcohol is even more hazardous on the water. The marine environment such as motion, vibration, oncoming noise, sun and wind can accelerate a drinker’s impairment.

For information on vessel safety checks, visit www.cgaux.org/vsc/ or http://cgaux.org/vsc/.

For information on boating safety courses, visit www.cgaux.org/boatinged/ or http://cgaux.org/boatinged/.

-USCG-
Natural world serves as a classroom for island program

In 2012, board members initiated a plan to develop a STEM focused learning center in the district’s school building. Partnering with orth Point ESC, Case Western Reserve University’s Leonard Gelfand STEM Center and local naturalists, the board went on to create a program and facility - the Kelleys Island Field Station - that provides a unique learning and research environment for middle and high school students.

Each summer, the field station offers weeklong sessions in a variety of environmental and biocentric fields. These programs are free to tax-paying Kelleys Island families and available to visiting families for a small fee. These sessions have been well attended and meaningful to the community.

The station also offers programs for school groups in the spring and fall. Each school designs its own program, based on interest, with most schools focusing on geology, ornithology, botany or water studies. These programs allow students to work alongside environmental experts, who introduce them to the chemical, biological and physical sciences. Programs are tailored to teacher goals and strengthen the students’ ability to record observations, collect and interpret data and present their findings.

- Geology - Students can explore one of the best examples of glacial grooves in the world and hunt for fossils in state park quarries. They also can hike to one of Ohio’s few alvars, an area that was exposed by glaciers and is continually scoured by wind, waves and ice. Only a few specially adapted plants can survive in this environment.
- Water quality - Even though Lake Erie comprises Ohio’s northern border and many students live on the shores of the Great Lakes, most have no meaningful interaction with the lake or fresh water resources in general. Even though serious issues like harmful algae blooms and waste water management have made regional news, most students still don’t have an appreciation for the environmental challenges facing our region. Engaging students in water testing and exploration can help inspire a new generation of clean water advocates.
- Ornithology - Kelleys Island is right in the middle of a major flyway. As birds pass through each spring and fall on their way to migration destinations, they rely on Kelleys Island to breed, raise young, take a well-deserved rest and find safe harbor. Bird studies provide information on population size and health. Students get hands-on bird-banding experience where they help with collecting, tagging and releasing.

Kelleys Island is ideally situated to support environmental education, research projects and interdisciplinary collaborations. School board members are committed to keeping the school’s K – eight operation functioning while looking for innovative solutions to expand their reach and offer meaningful educational opportunities.

The programs listed above are just a few examples of Kelleys Island Field Station’s many offerings. If you are interested in providing this experience for your students, visit kelleysislandfieldstation.org for more information and to register. We are looking forward to hosting many Ohio students for this unique outdoor learning experience this year.
May 21st to May 27th celebrated National EMS Week. This year’s theme is EMS STRONG: “Always in Service.” It’s a powerful and timely reminder of how committed your volunteers are to the service they provide to the community. They have chosen to answer the call of a career that demands passion, purpose and heart—for everyone that requires the Emergency Medical Services, day in and day out.

When you see a volunteer from the Emergency Medical Services, shake their hand, give them a pat on the back and thank them for their continued dedication to the well-being of everyone on the island. The biggest thank you goes to all of these volunteers—Bernadette Koshla, Russell Maust, Bill Mohr, Bobby Skeans, Jack Wade, Chuck Ehrbar, Cindy Herndon.

May was a busy month for the members of Kelleys Island EMS starting with the Annual EMS Spaghetti Dinner on Saturday, May 13th, held at Bag the Moon. The dinner was delicious and the staff and volunteers had a great time visiting with each other as they enjoyed the meal! Thank you to Kathy and Ken Reddinger and the staff at Bag the Moon for their continued support of the EMS Association.

An additional Thank You to Don and Shelly Stein for the wonderful items donated for the EMS Raffle. The Steins have contributed numerous spectacular items to be raffled off throughout the past years. This year’s raffle prizes are a spectacular woodencraft, life-sized, ‘Captain’, complete with a working lantern, and a basket of exotic spices. Tickets can be purchased at the EMS Station. The drawing will be held on Sunday, July 16, Island Fest.

Saturday, May 20th featured Safety Forces available to residents and visitors to Kelleys Island. The departments gathered on the Casino and visitors to Kelleys Island. The Steins have contributed numerous support of the EMS Association. Thank You to Kathy and Ken Reddinger and the staff at Bag the Moon for their continued support of the EMS Association. Saving Energy Tips – Heating, Cooling & Landscaping

A simple step to a warmer home
Take a look around your rooms. Is furniture blocking your heat vents? Sometimes you just don’t notice, but a chair, a couch, a bed or even a set of long drapes can cover a heat vent and make a real difference in how warm the room feels. And with a forced-air furnace, blocking a supply or return vent can cause a pressure imbalance in the entire heating system that will disrupt the heat flow throughout your entire house. So check around, and if needed, rearrange or relocate furniture to keep from blocking the vents. You’ll notice the difference.

Don’t let your cooling system rob you this winter!
Those window air conditioners may have helped you keep cool this past summer, but they can heat up your winter energy bills if you’re not careful. Before heating season begins, check around the top, bottom and sides of the window unit to determine if warm air will leak from your house and if cold air will seep inside. Ask at your local hardware store about air conditioner covers and other easy, inexpensive ways to stop air leaks.

Energy-free cooling? Yes!
There are ways to help feel more cool and comfortable without cooling your home at all. It’s called “passive cooling,” and it’s a very old practice that can still work today. Passive cooling really involves keeping your home or other room cool to begin with, thus reducing the workload on your energy-powered cooling devices and systems. One of the best ways to provide passive cooling is to plant trees. Tall, mature shade trees block the sunlight from heating down on your roof and windows, especially on the western side of your house, and can reduce the temperature by 10-20°F. Keeping shades and curtains drawn on windows that take a lot of direct sunlight, especially from the south and west, can reduce the heat gain in your home by up to half. But not every window awnings, porch-es and overhangs do an even better job of blocking the heat, interior window coverings. The hottest place in your home is the attic. If it isn’t properly ventilated, the attic will heat up as high as 130°F and some of that heat transfers to the interior of your home. Check for and repair air leaks into the attic door, if there one. Controlling humidity will help keep you more comfortable, too. If your air conditioning system doesn’t humidify the air as it should, consider adding a new unit to replace it or supplement it. Wait until cooler hours to do chores that add humidity to the air, such as washing and drying clothes, washing dishes, and cooking, and use ventilation fans in bathrooms and kitchens to help vent that extra moisture. The old standbys — caulking, weather stripping, and insulation — are just as important in the cooling season as in the winter. They help keep cool air inside and hot air from infiltrating. So before it gets too hot to get on an attic, check and fix these tips. You may find you’ll be more comfortable and use less energy each summer.

Hot air rises — and you lose heat to it!
As the heating season sets in, and your heating system gets its first work-out of the year, you may notice that it frequently cycles on and off. If this happens, you may have a problem with high pressure, which occurs when your electronic thermostat fights to keep your home at a very consistent temperature. Rapid cycling is especially common during the early, warmer days of the heating season, so pay attention to how often your furnace comes on and off. If your programmable thermostat is set to fire-up the furnace when it senses less than a one-degree temperature drop, the heating system may go on and off as frequently as every three minutes. Check the adjustments on your thermostat: if it’s set to detect just one degree of temperature change, adjust it to 1.5 degrees or more. You probably won’t feel the difference in comfort but you’ll avoid higher energy costs and wear and tear on your heating equipment.

Time to service the AC!
When hot weather sets in, it’s important to make sure your air conditioning system is in top shape for the job. You should turn on the fans as well. The first step, of course, is to plug those gaps that allow cold air to get into the house by caulking, weather-stripping and insulating. But a step as simple as closing an interior door or two can also help. Stairways and halls act as natural ‘stacks,’ so shutting doors that lead into hallways or stairwells can prevent warm air from being pulled out of the conditioned space.

Rapid cycling: great on bikes, not on your furnace!

dock for an up-close viewing of the equipment and a chance to meet the people that provide these vital services. On hand were members from the Kelleys Island Emergency Medical Service, Police Department, Fire Department, and the Kelleys Island State Park. Additionally, members of the U.S. Coast Guard were available to answer questions. Thank you for taking time out of your busy schedules to come down and meet the people responsible for your safety.

On Monday, May 22nd a demonstration of the use of the AED was provided to those interested. The demonstration took place at the Kelleys Island School Gym and taught the proper procedure to provide life-saving defibrillation by the EMS.

May was also Bike Safety Month. With warmer weather returning, please pay attention to cyclists and the rules of the road. Cyclists and drivers make mistakes that contribute to crashes, but when a crash occurs involving a cyclist and a car, SUV, or pickup truck, it is the cyclist who is likely to be injured or killed. Helmets are advised for all cyclists, the pavement is just as hard for an adult as it is for a child. Head injuries are a cause of long term disabilities that are preventable. If you are unsure of the rules of the road pertaining to bicycles, stop in the EMS Station or the Kelleys Island Police Station for a brochure or advice.

Life Jackets Save Lives

No matter what the type of life jacket, the most significant fact about life jackets is that they save lives. It is important for recreational boaters to take the time to choose a life jacket that they will wear, that meets the need of the activity they are participating in, and that will work for the environment to which they are exposed.

Knowing the facts about the different types of life jackets (also referred to as PFDs – Personal Flotation Devices) can help you decide which are appropriate for you. ODNR strongly encourages all boaters to wear life jackets, whether or not the law requires it.

Ohio Law Requires Life Jackets to be Worn...
• while riding a personal watercraft.
• while waterskiing or being towed on a similar device.
• for children less than 10 years of age on any vessel less than 18 feet in length.

It is particularly important to wear a life jacket in the following situations:
• When the boater cannot swim or is a weak swimmer.
• When boating alone.
• When the water is dangerously cold (the months of October through May in Ohio).
• During rough water/waves and severe weather conditions.
• When boating at night.
• In emergency situations.
• In swift and fast current situations.

Life jackets fall into five different categories, each with different features that serve a variety of needs.

Type I - Offshore Life Jacket
Designed for extended survival in large, rough waters where rescue may be slow in coming, this life jacket is required on commercial craft. This type can turn an unconscious person to a vertical or slightly backward position. Unless it’s inflatable, this life jacket tends to be bulky and uncomfortable in warm weather.

Type II - Near Shore Buoyant Vest
Considered the “most common” life jacket, this PFD is for use in calm, near shore waters where there is a chance of survival and the wearer may be able to get to shore unassisted.

Type III - Flotation Aid
This life jacket is regarded as the “most comfortable,” with a wide range of styles for different boating activities and sports. Ideal for calm water situations, this type generally will not turn an unconscious person face up in the water unless it’s inflatable.

Type IV - Throwable Device
Designed to be thrown to someone who has fallen overboard, this device should be immediately available for emergencies and should not be used for small children, non-swimmers or unconscious victims.

Type V - Special Use Device
This type of PFD is designed for a specific user and can include work vest and deck suits. The device contains varying levels of inherent buoyancy and is often inflatable to provide additional flotation. Some special use devices must be worn when the boat is underway.

Regardless of type, all life jackets must meet these U.S. Coast Guard requirements:
• Life jackets must have a “U.S. Coast Guard Approved” label with approval number listed.
• Each PFD must be the appropriate size for the person who wears it. Size, weight ranges, and recommended uses are listed on the label.
• All straps, buckles, zippers and stitching on a life jacket must be intact and the fabric should be in good condition.
• Life jackets must be readily accessible to occupants of a boat. They should not be stored in sealed packages or in a locked or closed storage area.

The Fish Ohio Report

Tomato Time

By Tresa Erickson

You love to garden, and more often than not, you end up with more produce than you can use. You give away much of the excess. Yet there always seems to be some left, tomatoes, in particular. Lucky for you, there are lots of recipes that call for tomatoes. Here are some you might want to try.

Avocado, Tomato & Mango Salsa

3 T. olive oil
1/4 c. red onion, chopped
2 T. lime juice
1 t. salt
3 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 c. fresh cilantro, chopped
1 jalapeno pepper, seeded and minced
1 mango, peeled, seeded and diced
4 tomatoes, diced
1 avocado, peeled, pitted and diced

Combine avocado, tomatoes, mango, jalapeno, cilantro and garlic. Store in refrigerator until ready to serve.

Garlic Tomato Spread

1 6-oz. can tomato juice
2 15-oz. cans tomato sauce

1 pinch garlic salt
1 clove garlic, diced
1 yellow onion, chopped

Dip tomato slices in egg mixture. Press tomato slices in cornmeal mixture, shaking off excess. Transfer to baking sheet in a single layer. Drizzle with olive oil and sprinkle with garlic, basil and sea salt. Bake until tender and filling is hot, about 20 minutes.

Tomato Bagel Sandwiches

1 bagel, split and toasted
2 T. cream cheese
1 tomato, thinly sliced
Salt and pepper, to taste

Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat. Cook beef until browned and crumbly, about 5 to 7 minutes. Drain and combine with cooked rice, onion, garlic, salt and pepper. Add tomato pulp and tomato sauce. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer until thickened, about 10 minutes. Set boiled-over tomatoes in baking dish, fill with ground beef mixture and insert tomato tops. Pour tomato juice over filled tomatoes. Bake until tomatoes are tender and filling is hot, about 20 minutes.
