People Without Lawyers?

If you have a legal problem, and do not know where to turn, then the Methodist Law Centre is here to help you navigate your way to competent, professional legal assistance.

- We are here to help, regardless of whether we can take your case.
- Our assistance extends beyond mere legal assistance—we are a Christian ministry who aim to minister to the whole person, if possible.
- If we cannot assign an attorney to take your case, then we will attempt to refer

- you to another lawyer who is within our case referral network; or,
- If we cannot sign you up as a client, we may also try to refer you to the correct administrative agency that is designed to help you file an administrative claim (e.g., the City of Tampa Office of Human Rights; the Florida Department of Human Relations; the State Attorney's Victim Assistance Office; or the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission).
 - Our network of Senior Pastors, Chaplains, and Christian Counselors are also here to help.
