

You may be able to get help paying for your 2018 health insurance at healthcare.gov

There are 2 ways to save:

Premium tax credit

Cost sharing reduction (CSR)

What is it?

Money the government pays to help cover monthly premium payments for people who qualify. A premium is the cost you pay for your health insurance each month.

Money the government pays to help cover out-of-pocket health care costs for people who qualify. It lowers the amount you pay out of your own pocket each time you get medical services.

How much can I save?

When you fill out your application at healthcare.gov, you'll see if you can get it and how much you can save.

The amount depends on how much money you make and how many people are in your family. In general, the less money you make, the larger your tax credit will be. This amount can go up or down if your job status, size of your family, or marital status changes.

When you fill out your application at healthcare.gov, you'll see if you can get it and how much you can save.

Do I qualify?

You may qualify if:

- You can't get affordable health insurance through your job
- You don't have Medicare
- You use healthcare.gov to buy coverage
- Your household income falls in a certain range

You may qualify if:

- You get a premium tax credit
- You choose to buy a silver-level health plan through healthcare.gov
- Your household income falls in a certain range

Don't wait to enroll! Open enrollment for 2018 health insurance at healthcare.gov is Nov. 1 – Dec. 15, 2017.

