This is the picture of our German Shepherd dog, Zoe that makes me smile! She is 11 years old. Zoe has always been very active and spoiled (ie., sitting on the couch!).

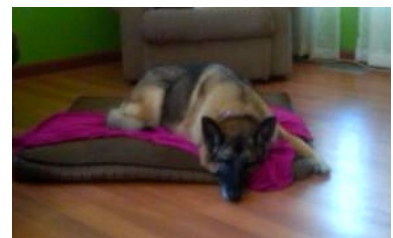

Over the past year she had slowed down considerably and had even begun to drag her back legs around; she was unable to run around and play. Climbing our full flight of stairs was becoming a struggle for her. Sometimes just getting up from lying down was a chore for her. It was painful to watch - we just attributed it to aging and/or hip dysplasia, common to German Shepherds. She could no longer jump up on the couch. Now she can again!!

This photo was taken after a month of treatment at Horse 'N Hound. She received cold laser treatments and therapeutic exercises and continues to benefit from the underwater treadmill. It has been challenging for her but the results are amazing! She is a happier and more active dog. The therapists at HnHPT are so encouraging, caring and knowledgeable. We are so thankful to have found HnHPT. They have truly given Zoe a better life which is all we had hoped for.

Above Zoe in the underwater treadmill, and later napping after her workout!

Thank you,
