

These three ongoing expressions of one's inner life prove the unmistakable union of a soul with heaven's God.

8. There is also a triple, earthly witness that corroborates the genuineness of one's Christian commitment. All three must be present and united as one. These are:
 - ♥ The observable presence of the Spirit of Truth, seen through one's uncompromising observance of God's commands without human worldliness.

The determination to never again participate in the vicious attitudes and deeds that brought Jesus to His death, such as: the lack of integrity; the calling upon God while acting contrary to His commands; the putting aside of objective moral law to gain one's ends; and, the use of anger and violence, on the innocent and helpless.
 - ♥ The cleansing water of one's baptism, resulting in one's factual repentance, demonstrating one's positive change of life, and commitment to a visible modeling of Jesus' way of Life.
 - ♥ The believer's deliberate prioritizing of moral and spiritual values, and the restricting of material and sensual values in his lifestyle, must be visibly witnessed.
9. In order to verify the truth of past events, mankind accepts the testimony of eyewitnesses who alone can testify to the reality of what they have seen and heard. It would be irrational to ignore or reject witnesses out of hand, for then the scope of one's knowledge would be impossibly narrowed to only what the individual himself experiences.
