This will be a single player event of five rounds each of ONE hour. Players will use 75pt lists using Dynamic points as at May 1st 2025.

Only latest books allowed, therefore as an example you can't use NVA book for East Germans. This includes any books available and any errata as of 30 April 2025 via FM101 from the Team Yankee website. Restrictions are you can ONLY use units entirely with wheels, tracks, wings or rotors.

This will mean any force with manpack mortars or AA or infantry will be illegal. Any force that has ONLY one or more of the above four types of travel is permitted.

Umpire will be Terrance Trudgett who will have a bye army if required due to odd numbers.

Terrain MUST be agreed before the game with both players in accord, if you can't decide, ask the umpire. Matchups will be random for initial round BUT noting where possible, people from same state will not be matched against each other - this cannot be guaranteed. From game two onwards it will be Swiss chess matched. All games will be played on 6x4' tables and using the January 2025 mission pack – see attached, noting there are HUGE changes to missions and vastly improved reserve rules. Each mission will have both players nominating to their opponent in secret either Attack, Manoeuvre or Defend and matching up the result Scoring will be based on Wins/Losses with Bonus points for each formation broken by a team. A win is worth 5pts, loss is 1pt and each broken formation is worth a further 1 vp. Forfeits are worth zero points. This encourages games played to a conclusion. Even if you lose, you can gain bonus points by destroying enemy formations.

At the end of five games, the player with the most VP's is national champion. If there is a further ties on VP's, add up the VP's for the other four opponents that were played. The higher score indicates stronger opposition and gives the benefit to their opponents.

Please provide lists in a readable format, preferably from www.Forces.Team-yankee.com and submit via teztechcomputers@gmail.com by midnight 9th May 2025 with any questions here or via the Team Yankee Australia Facebook Group. Entries submitted correctly and on time will receive one bonus VP.
