

Good morning!

Another reminder today...this one a loose ball play where a player 'piles on'. Take a look here.

Loose ball plays where players are on the floor are just changing vertical plays to horizontal plays. In other words, if we 'stood the loose ball play up' and could see it vertically, a player who 'piles on' would be running into and pushing the other player...and obvious foul. If we can view these plays that way, we will be better play callers on loose ball plays and not bail anyone out by rewarding a held ball.

Talk about these plays in your pregame conference so that it is fresh in your mind when you walk on the floor!

Wednesday Extra and Bonus: With Valentine's Day being today, make sure to let those you love, those who support you in working so many games, know that you love them and are appreciative of their support! Let those you care about most in this great avocation that you love them also!

Have a great game tonight!
