

LULLABY

By John Lipinski

I'd like to sing you a lullaby, you can close your eyes
To deliver sweet dreams, the kind to make one smile
Bold reflections of days gone by, of youth, glamorized
There were stars in your eyes, more than once in a while

Now, I'll sing you a song, the music softly played
As we're sailing along, the coast of St. Tropez
A never-ending holiday, just east of Marseilles
So close your eyes, my love, and dream this day

Solo

If I sing you a lullaby, you can close your eyes
Arrivederci, auf wiedersehen, time to say goodnight
No worries, this isn't goodbye, in the morning, you'll rise
Filled with Grace, it's the Lord's precious prize, & heaven's delight

And I'll sing you a song, down at the end of the quay
Before we move along, toward Barnegat Bay
On this never-ending holiday, eating oysters flambe'
If you close your eyes, my love, at the end of the day
Know that sleep will come & blissfully stay!
