

Second X-12 Hillclimb Launches in Perfect Weather

By Ron Dillon

Utah's only hillclimb, the Ocean Star International X-12, fired up for the second year on July 10-12, 2015 at I-84 Exit 12 near Snowville, Utah and pulled a large contingent of 569 entries from across the West. The event was the fourth round of the 2015 Malcolm Smith Racing, Pole Position Raceways North American Hillclimb Association (NAHA) Championship Series, and also featured dozens of classes for stock and altered bikes and 4-wheelers. Besides Ocean Star International, a local brine shrimp company, other heavy-hitter partners were: Box Elder County Tourism, Pepsi, Bud Light, Rockstar Energy, C & R Trailer Sales, Rhino Rush, Frank May Ski-Doo, Off Road Vixens of Utah, Shock Strap, Rockwell Time, Honnen Equipment, Golden Spike Polaris, Buttars Arctic Cat, Cache Valley Honda/Yamaha, Eliason Trucking, Gearheads, Rupp's Trucking, and Nish Rock .

Riders again loved the hill, and the weather was surprisingly cool for July, with several scattered rain showers and highs in the 80's, a big contrast from last year's April mess. Most classes were packed, from minis to altered vintage bikes; interest in hillclimbing continues to grow and X-12 drew people from nine states, as well as Canada.

Stock, trophy bikes ran on their own hill on Friday and like last year, hundreds of riders fought tooth and nail to get over, many of them looping out in huge crashes, although more made it over because the hill was routed slightly to the left. It was still a really nasty hill and only 10 riders successfully made it to the timing lights, versus one last year.

The semi-pro classes also ran on Friday and as always, Friday's women's pro class was a war, with 13 tough, talented young women showing up on a variety of bikes to compete. Brooke Whitlock clawed her way over the top, the only woman to do so, but runner-up Sam Curtain came close, as did Joslyn Phillips. All of these women just keep getting better every week. Joe Shipman nipped Rory Schinsing to win the 250 pro class, and Justin Mastalka had a solid weekend, winning both the 700 and Open Old Timer pro classes.

Saturday brought out the NAHA pro qualifying and Jason Smith and Max Simmons each won a $400 Rockwell watch by topping the 450 and 700 class qualifying. Smith went on to win both the 450 and 700 pro finals, but perhaps the highlight of the weekend was crowd favorite, legendary Travis Whitlock, who simply out rode everyone to win the Open Pro final. At nearly 50 years of age, Whitlock proved once again that he can still compete and win at the very highest level in pro hillclimbing. Wild, side by side X-Climb competition ended the weekend, with Joe Shipman nipping Jason Smith to take a rough and wild, bar-banging win that had the crowd yelling for more.

Local enthusiasm for X-12 remains high, with everyone from Box Elder County Commissioners to local business leaders talking about the future. Certainly the event will return, probably earlier in the year, along with snowmobile grass drags and other entertainment being added in the future.

The organizers again wish to extend a hearty "helmets off" to the sponsors, donators and partners that made things happen at the Double P Ranch in a very short time. A big thank you is also in order to the ranch owner, Darin Peterson and his wife Jo Ellen, and the small army of staff and volunteers who helped, including: Trustan and Shanna Anderson, Shane Eliason, and many, many others. The event could also not have happened without the support of the Box Elder County Commissioners and law enforcement and medical staff.

Round five of the 2015 NAHA Hillclimb Series will happen August 6-7 at the Buffalo Chip Campground in Sturgis, South Dakota. And of course X-12 was hosted by the same people who host Idaho's Big Nasty Hillclimb every year near Boise, which will happen this fall on September 18-20.
