Summer Camp

Summer camp registration is under way! We have an amazing group of teachers ready to make this summer one of the best ever! We have new exciting themes and lots of opportunities for fun and discovery.

Prekindergarten

Hello!

As we roll into the new month of March some exciting things are waiting for our Pre-kindergartners; we will celebrate Dr. Seuss' birthday, welcome spring and most importantly, get ready for March Madness!!! I absolutely love basketball and I love the UNC TARHEELS even more. Since I love sports so much, March Madness is like a month long holiday to me. I have planned super fun basketball activities for the kids, like adding baskets, dunking letters, and passing sight words.

St. Patrick's day is also coming up so we will also be having lots of leprechaun fun. Towards the middle of the month. Green will be the color of focus and will send us right into spring time!

It's amazing how far these little ones have come and how they grow each and every month. I can't wait for another adventurous month with them!

Kindergarten and First Grade

Hello Parents!

It's the lucky month of March and it is a month filled with nothing but good luck & lots of learning! St. Patrick's Day is something that we will celebrate this month. The Kindergarten/First Grade class will use shamrocks in various ways such as: arts & crafts, math and reading. We will learn about St. Patrick, how he made a positive impact in his world & how WE can make a positive impact in our world as well!

All of my students are becoming SUPER awesome readers!! This month, students will be encouraged to read independently & complete fun reading comprehension checks. I am so excited about spreading good luck & positive energy to our Sprouts family!

Feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns.

Second and Third Grade

Hello Sprouts Families!

And hello March! Can you believe we are two months into the year already? March is definitely one of my favorite months of the year: national pi day is the 14th, the first day of spring is the 20th, and a certain teacher's birthday is the 29th (mine!!). We also have a bunch of students in our class that have March birthdays too! We are so excited for all the fun things happening this month at Sprouts!

Our class projects for March are going to be some fun St. Patrick's Day themed activities. We are going to design and make leprechaun traps, do writing activities about what we would do if we found a pot of gold, and play some super fun rainbow math games! The major theme in our class this year is kindness; we talk daily about the importance of being kind to others and the impact it can have on those around us and ourselves. We are going to be continuing this theme by launching a kindness challenge in our class this month! Our class is definitely in for an awesome month!

As always, homework is the most important task and always comes first. If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to reach out!

Also, huge shout out to Sydney G. and Joshua T. for reading the most books in our class for the month of February! Good job guys!!

Third and Fourth Grade

Hi Parents!

I'm so excited to MARCH into a new month with your kiddos. February acted as our educational month; the kids did such a great job with their black history projects! They learned a lot about different black inventors. It was fulfilling to see their excited faces as they realized the impact the various inventors have had on their lives today. Taking into account February's academic nature, March has plans to be silly and full of fun. This month we will also work on responsibility. Unfortunately, we've had a few issues of forgetting homework, planners, and reading logs. In attempt to resolve the issue we will spend a moment here and there discussing what it means to be accountable, and thinking through different ways of behaving responsibly from day to day.

The year is flying by so incredibly fast, and I'm happy to be able to share this time with my students.

As always, if you have any questions, comments, or concerns feel to contact me.

Fifth Grade

Hello all !!

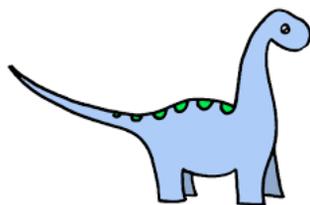

I hope everyone hasn't been swept away by all the rain we have had lately! I know we are all looking forward to some sunshine in March! This month holds some exciting news; the fifth grade after school class has been given the privilege of welcoming a class PET!! We have TWO baby rats in our class named Huck and Finn, and we have been working hard to get to know them and help give them the best life possible in our room. Rats are incredibly intelligent and affectionate creatures and we're all SO excited to learn about them and share the responsibilities of caring for them together!

In addition to our new friends, we will be talking this month about our growth as individuals and as a class, going over our goals from the beginning of the year, and evaluating how far we've come, and what we can do to continue to reach further! We'll still get all the homework and projects completed and hopefully get outside more as it warms up and the sun decides to stay!

As always, please don't hesitate to come to me with any questions or concerns, and thank you for all your continued support and for you AMAZING kiddos.
