

Case, Roland

Roland Case, 88, of Middleboro, Massachusetts, passed away Sunday, April 2, 2006. He was born September 30, 1917 to the late Galen and Sarah (Swackhammer) Case. He attended Kinde School. In 1938, he entered the Army Air Corps. He served in the African Theater in World War II and in the Korean War. On October 1, 1949, he married Pat Standish in Middleboro, Massachusetts. He was a life member of the Masons and Honor Guard at the VFW. He attended the Methodist Church in Middleboro, Massachusetts. He is survived by his wife, Pat; daughter, Sally; sons, Lee, Scott, Robert and his wife, Denise; four grandchildren; one great-grandchild; sisters, Ellen (Alan) McDonald, Dorothy Davidson, Jean Vaughan, Carolyn Wooster, Donna Jenkins; brother, Stewart and his wife, Shirley. He was preceded in death by a brother, Lee Case. Cremation has taken place and a memorial service was conducted on Saturday, April 8, 2006, at the Ashley Funeral Home in Middleboro, Massachusetts with burial at the National Cemetery at Camp Edwards in Bourne, Massachusetts.