Biography

Lisa Kathleen Iden 1967 – 2025 Lisa Kathleen Iden, 58, of Kinde, passed away peacefully on July 5th at her home, surrounded by her loving family. Born in Bad Axe, Michigan, to Elwood and Guydeane Kirkpatrick, Lisa lived a life of love, devotion, and was a natural caretaker. Her faith was an important part of who she was — something that guided her throughout life and gave her peace in her final days. Lisa discovered a love for cattle as a young girl, working on the family farm alongside her grandfather. She returned to the family farm after college, and became the primary herdsman, caring for her cattle until her last days. Lisa also found incredible joy watching the birds around her home, and tending to her garden. Lisa loved her family most of all. Lisa was a devoted wife and mother, caring for young and old. She was the heart of the family, the glue that held everyone together.
