ADULTS

Every Person on the Book of Mormon $14.98

A detailed synopsis of every person's activities in the Book of Mormon, written in easy-to-read story form! You can quickly learn everything you need to know about each individual, then easily find that information in the Book of Mormon.

The Master's Touch II $15.00

Written by Mildred Nelson Smith, this book is an attempt to chronicle a few of the instances in which the Smiths and others have felt the touch of God's hand, making life a splendid, happy experience for us all.

Church History in Black and White $29.95

In 1907, when photography was still considered a magical thing, George Edward Anderson set forth on a momentous journey across the United States. Anderson spent a year capturing vivid images of the sites of such transcendent events as Joseph's first vision, the restoration of priesthood, the publication of the Book of Mormon, and the martyrdom of Joseph and Hyrum Smith.

Isaiah: Prophet, Seer, and Poet $18.95

A commentary on the man considered to be the greatest Old Testament prophet. Restoration references, and a must to understand the important prophecies we have been commanded to search.

The Summer Internship Program

Building spiritual leaders for tomorrow

On June 15, 1996, young people from across the country will begin an intense six-week summer internship program focusing on the Book of Mormon. For many, it will begin a lifetime of careful study and love for the prophetic word in the Book of Mormon, as well as other inspired writings. But most of all, it will begin a genuine understanding of the narrowness of the way and the call for each to believe in Jesus Christ and manifest this belief by a daily walk with the Master.

Young people selected for this program will be from RLDS churches, Restoration churches, LDS or even Protestant churches. Each will express a willingness to learn about the Book of Mormon. During the program, they will study Book of Mormon prophets and their messages and view films on scholarly research. They will hear the testimonies of Holocaust survivors, who have endured the inhumanity of man, and the testimonies of men and women who are changing the lives of people in foreign countries by their medical skills, reflecting the true charity of mankind. They will travel to historic sites and walk the streets where Joseph preached and shared the gospel in Nauvoo. They will pray on the banks of the Mississippi where the Saints bid farewell to their city beautiful and crossed over the roadway of ice, never to come back. They will also bear testimonies of their own willingness to carry the burdens of discipleship and remain faithful all of their lives.

We invite each of you to encourage your sons and daughters, your young members and the young people whose lives you come in contact with to participate in this opportunity to strengthen their spiritual armor. For information, contact Julie Gatrost at 525-6391, the director of the program, or call FRAA at 461-3722.

A Book of Mormon Day

You can have one at your church!

Did you ever wonder what topic the Book of Mormon prophets overwhelmingly emphasized in their writings? What about the phrase "endure to the end." What does it mean? Did Nephi have a legal justification to slay Laban? Why did Abinadi cite the ten commandments to King Noah and his people? Is Ishmael an Arabic name? How much is Christ emphasized in the Book of Mormon? All of this, and much more, awaits you when your congregation hosts a Book of Mormon day sponsored by FRAA.

Whether it is inspired classes on Book of Mormon topics, films on Meso-America or the drama of Parley Pratt's conversion to the Book of Mormon, students gain understanding and enriched reflection on the message of the Book of Mormon.

Book of Mormon days can be scheduled at any congregation. They are held on Sunday mornings from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. Contact your pastor now for this unique opportunity to grow in your knowledge of the Book of Mormon, or contact FRAA for additional information.

What Is FRAA and What Does It Do?

FRAA began as a committee authorized by the RLDS First Presidency to present scholarly articles on the Book of Mormon. Apostles Hield and Hansen were among its first members, along with Thelona Stevens and Roy Weldon, who wrote many of the teaching materials for the church for several decades. In 1968, the committee was organized into a not-for-profit corporation with Thelona Stevens as its first president. She remained president for more than 20 years until her death at the age of 89.

Today, FRAA is vastly different from its humble beginnings in the homes of the Saints. With offices located at 210 W. White Oak, in Independence, Missouri, FRAA is governed by a board of directors composed of members from the RLDS church and the Restoration branches. Its mission statement, "To witness of Jesus Christ through the Book of Mormon," creates a commonality of purpose that harmoniously blends the interests of diverse groups.

Its mission is to bring souls to Jesus Christ through the Book of Mormon.

To accomplish its mission, FRAA publishes The Witness, a quarterly magazine, that focuses on the prophetic message of the Book of Mormon and its inspiring testimonies. It also publishes a newsletter, "The Mighty Summons," detailing the many activities of the Foundation. Recently, the Foundation began to publish a children's magazine (with its own mascot) called I Witness Kids. Book of Mormon days are regularly held events at congregations across the United States, where state-of-the-art presentations and films on the Book of Mormon are presented to enthusiastic audiences. First begun in the early 1980s in the Auditorium, attendance at Book of Mormon days once reached more than 3000 people. In 1991, FRAA began one of its most exciting programs, the Student Internship Program. Now in its fifth year, this six-week summer program allows young people ages 16 to 22 to earn summer income as they learn more about the Book of Mormon, perhaps, than some people learn in a lifetime. The Foundation's greatest outreach, however, maybe the addition of its bookstore, which has the largest selection of Book of Mormon materials of any store in the region. With book stewards around the country serving congregations, FRAA is bringing life to young and old through the ministry of the Book of Mormon.

MIGHTY SUMMONS

Foundation For Research On Ancient America

Conference 1996

Witnessing of Jesus Christ through the Book of Mormon

FRAA Book of Mormon Bookstore Will Have Extended Hours

The Foundation for Research on Ancient America (FRAA) extends a sincere welcome to all conference visitors! FRAA, with roots in the Restoration for more than 50 years, will keep its bookstore open extended hours during the week of conference to accommodate the many visitors to the area.

Conference participants will be pleasantly surprised to find hundreds of Book of Mormon books, materials, videos, study guides and children's literature on a variety of topics. With resources designed to bring many hours of inspired reading and spiritual insights, the Book of Mormon will come alive as never before. From our best-selling youth book, Tennis Shoes Among the Nephites, to scholarly works such as Doctrines of the Book of Mormon, to classic study guides by Thelona Stevens and Roy Weldon, FRAA has something for everyone, including miniature replicas of the brass plates.

While you are visiting, subscribe to The Witness magazine, a beautifully illustrated Book of Mormon magazine, and the I Witness Kids magazine, designed especially for young people ages 5-12.
