HAZZAN'S NOTES

This month allows us to focus on the last and most recently written book of the Torah, Deuteronomy (Devarim). At the very beginning of this month, we read the updated ten commandments in Deuteronomy and they then set the stage for the rest of the parshiyot we read the rest of this month.

We re-learn the updated laws that had been originally set forward in Exodus, Numbers, and Leviticus. Here, in First Temple language, we learn quite clearly how far our people had come in certain key areas but were still very lacking in others. We see that in times of plenty and peace, our people fell out of concern for our religion and people. Our very moral fiber was beginning to fall away toward a more secular view of the world. The sacrifices in the temple were almost literally taken for granted and our people were slowly beginning not to come to Jerusalem for the Regalim (the pilgrimage festivals: Sukkot, Pesah, and Shavuot) and the time from Yom Teruah (Rosh Hashanah now) through Shemini Atzeret and the spring return from Pesah to Shavuot.

In the chapters of this book, we learn how our people needed to be brought back to their grounding as Jews. King Josiah made sure through these chapters we found new meaning and new urgency for our traditions. This ultimately helped our people when some hundreds of years we were sent off to exile in Babylonia, our original homeland, and had to fend for ourselves among our forebearers who knew not our religion and traditions and found us an alien people in their midst. Although the great Babylonian Talmud was created in this period, we lost all that we had in Jerusalem because we didn't listen early enough to the cries for the understanding of our faith.

Thus, in our time, when we feel small comfort and hope due to COVID-19, we need to know that our tradition always beckons us back to learn and understand what we neglected before. We can find solace and hope in our lives if we but re-invest ourselves in our customs and laws that made us strong and everlasting for our 5000 years. As we feel the heat of summer and the difficulties of this virus, may we also find truth and solace in our traditions and customs that bring us joy, wisdom, and light.

Hazzan Lance H. Tapper

From our President

Hello Everyone,

July seems to have zipped by and here it is August already. I hope you all enjoyed the 4th. Fireworks are legal in my city and they were going off all around us. It was really quite a display. I hope you all enjoyed yourselves as much as possible under the current circumstances. Most of all, I hope you are all keeping safe. Please remember that we are here if you need anything or just want to hear a friendly voice. We don't mind if you kvetch a bit either. We all have those days!

We are heavy into High Holiday preparations. It will be very different this year and we have no experience to call on. Keeping safe and healthy and not spreading this illness to our friends and loved ones is paramount. We can count our blessings because we have a place to stream services from that will physically accommodate us and we have the means to buy, borrow and use the necessary equipment. We are very fortunate to have enough space to socially distance the professional choir, Hazzan Lance and Mark Peterson and to also bring in and socially distance, shofar blowers and our cellist at the appropriate times.

Erica is keeping up with the usual tasks that go into running a business. My thanks to all the Board Members who are doing everything necessary to keep Beth Shalom of Whittier running. A few of us will be going to the storage unit soon to get things that will be needed for High Holidays and I will be measuring the furniture and accessories we have in there so we can make our office area look more homey. Hopefully, soon after we open up again, we will have our rooms and foyer decorated with our own things.

Have a good and safe month,
Lila

ROSE HILLS CEMETERY PLOTS

We will be raising the price for the plots that we have available at Rose Hills as of September 1, 2020. The new price will be $3,500 for each plot which brings us in line with what other synagogues are charging for these gravesites. We will honor our current price of $2,150 until September 1st and for anyone who has paid and started the paperwork process before then. If you want to do the mitzvah of pre-planning, please call the office. They can give you information as to what gravesites are available and get you in touch with Irving Bartikofsky who is handling this for the Board. We have 12 plots available and have had people ask us to hold 8 of them so if you are interested, please let us know.

Let's Get Busy

We've all spent the majority of the last few months finding ways to get by. It's okay if you're starting to feel the hopelessness creep in, though. The first step to is to acknowledge it.

Why not take some advice from those who have overcome all the issues we're experiencing now? Take stock of the moment to remind yourself that the pandemic will come to an end one day. Here are some inspiring quotes from leaders, authors, and celebrities.

- "Life is a menu, so remember whatever you order for your life is what's gonna be delivered to your table." — Tyrese Gibson
- "Life is a shipwreck, but we must not forget to sing in the lifeboats." — Voltaire
- "People say nothing is impossible, but I do nothing every day." — A.A. Milne
- "People often say that motivation doesn't last. Well, neither does bathing – that's why we recommend it daily." — Zig Ziglar, Author
- "Don't worry about the world coming to an end today. It's already tomorrow in Australia." — Charles Schulz, Illustrator
- "Optimist: Someone who figures that taking a step backward after taking a step forward is not a disaster, it's more like a cha-cha." — Robert Brault, Author
- "There's never enough time to do all the nothing you want." - Bill Waterson, Cartoonist

Just in case you missed them the first time around, here are a few of the ideas that have already been included in the Weekly Bulletin. There will be more so be sure and check each Thursday.

Whether it is picking apples for Rosh Hashana, celebrating Shabbat while camping, clapping along with Jewish Blues or Rock musicians, hosting a community-wide Shabbat Alive outdoors, learning with internationally-known scholars, making life-long Jewish friends at family and adult retreats, or providing distance learning programs during a pandemic, CSP has programs to offer for all ages.

Parashas Re'eh (Deuteronomy 11:26:16:17)

The Torah portion (Parashas) for the 25th of Av 5780 (15 August 2020) is Re'eh the fifth portion in the fifth book of the Torah (Deuteronomy). It is the first of three sidros (Re'eh, Softim and Ki' Seitze) that contain the bulk of the commandments found in Deuteronomy. Moses began by putting the commandments into view saying that the choice of accepting the Torah is nothing less than the choice between blessing and curse.

Summary— A listing of significant chapters include the following: 1. Destruction of places of idolatry; 2. Prohibition of private alters; 3. Prohibition against eating blood; 4. Attitude to false prophets and seducers; 5. Prohibition of heathen abuses; 6. Clean and unclean animals; 7. Tithing; 8. The year of release; 9. The three pilgrimage festivals.

Key Concepts—1. Freedom of choice -"Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse", Deuteronomy 11:26. Moses points out the paths of happiness and misfortune. He says that it is up to each of us to choose which path to take. The good life is dependent upon our ongoing choices, not upon what we did or intended to do in the future. 2. Tithing—"you shall surely tithe all of the increase of your seed", (Deuteronomy 14:22). This refers to a 10th of all the yearly produce that was set aside for the sanctuary. Currently, it is the custom to give a 10th of one's gross income to the shule.

Mitzvot—1. The three pilgrimage festivals. According to the Torah every Jew was required to appear in Jerusalem on three festival occasions each year—Passover, Shavuot, and Sukkot (Deuteronomy 16:16). During these visits they should not come empty-handed, and they should bring three animals for three different sacrifices. Today, Jews are expected to celebrate the festivals with the same flavor and enjoyment as in Temple times. The only current change is that there are no sacrifices. Donations to charity or to institutions of learning are the present-day equivalent. "Three times a year everyone of your males will appear before G-d." Deuteronomy 16:16
2. Charity—The Torah states, "you shall not harden your heart, but you shall surely open wide your hand to him", (Deuteronomy 15:7-8) In our Judaism, giving charity is considered a virtue. In assisting the poor, one must never do so half-heartedly or grudgingly. In addition to monetary support one must also extend a hand of wholehearted encouragement, (Deuteronomy 15:8).
